PREFACE.

EXCISE.

THE HON'BLE SIR H. L. HARRISON, KT.

IN its general arrangement the present republication follows that of the Excise Manual, 1884. A complete reprint of the Acts relating to excise opium and to exciseable articles other than opium, corrected and brought up to date, is prefixed to Parts I and II respectively. A comprehensive index has also now for the first time been added.

2. The rules themselves have been recast, rearranged, and added to so as to bring them into conformity with existing orders. This work, a very onerous one, has been carried out by the Commissioner of Excise under the general supervision only of the Board.

3. The appendices have also been recast and enlarged. Appendix A, Part II, now contains a complete set of the forms in use in the Excise Department, while in Appendix B is given a reprint of the more important of the Excise notifications of Government and the Board still in force. In Appendix C important Circular Orders of the Board embodying general instructions are reproduced for facility of reference.

4. The rules contained in this Manual will not be published again in a volume of Board's Rules, but it is to be distinctly understood that they form part of the Board's Rules, and are to be regarded as authoritative by all officers subordinate to the Board.

5. This compilation may be cited briefly as the "Excise Manual, 1891." It supersedes the edition of 1884, and references in future should be made to it only. Errors and omissions should be brought to the notice of the Board.

6. This volume is interleaved with blank pages to allow of the insertion of additions and alterations made subsequent to its issue.

SUBSIDIARY RULES.

(RELATING TO OPIUM, INTOXICATING DRUGS, AND POPPY-HEADS.)

ISSUED UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE.

Supply of Opium.

1. EVERY officer, authorized to grant licenses, leases or permits, and to sell opium, is to keep a register No. 7 (No. 49 of the Board's Series of Registers) in Form XVII, shewing the number of licenses, leases and permits issued, and the quantity of opium passed out to the respective holders thereof. There are to be separate registers for opium, madak, chandu and poppy-heads which may be bound in one volume.

Licenses for the retail sale of opium, madak and chandu are to be settled under the auction system in every district, including Calcutta, its Suburbs, Howrah, and Bali; leases are to be settled by tender; and licenses for the retail sale of poppy-heads and druggists' permits are to be settled under the fixed license-fee system: the fee for each such license or permit being Re. 1 per annum or for any broken period thereof. Licenses, leases and permits are to be issued in Forms I to X, and, unless otherwise specially authorised by the Board to the contrary, are to be for a term of one year. The forms will be bound up in books with counterfoils, and with the pages numbered in print, and can be obtained on indent from the Superintendent of Stationery. All licenses are to be called in at the end of the year on the expiration of their term or on their cancellation or surrender, and are to be pasted to their counterfoils. No new license is to be granted to a previous license-holder until he has returned his time-expired, cancelled, or abandoned license, as the case may be, to the Collector, or satisfied the Collector that he cannot do so. If a license-holder does not surrender his expired license, special notice is to be given to the magisterial authorities to prevent the sale of opium or intoxicating drug by such person. In the event of a license, lease or permit being lost or destroyed, a duplicate may, on proof of the loss, be issued on payment of a fee of annas eight for the duplicate of a druggists'

(3) Intoxicating drugs so confiscated shall immediately be destroyed, except kafa, which shall be dealt with in such manner as the Board may, from time to time, prescribe.

(4) Poppy-heads so confiscated shall be disposed of as the Collector may direct.

Rewards to be paid out of the proceeds of fines and confiscations.

24. (1) A Magistrate convicting an offender under section 9 of the Opium Act, 1878, may award to any persons who have contributed in any way to the conviction, rewards equal in the aggregate to the whole or any portion of any fine imposed upon the offender and paid by him or realised from his property.

(2) If the Collector is of opinion that a larger reward than has been granted, or is grantable, under the provisions of clause (1) of this rule ought to be given to any person who has contributed to the conviction, he may, with the previous sanction of the Board, grant a larger reward. He may also, under similar sanction, grant a reward in cases where the Magistrate could have, but has not, done so.

25. An officer ordering the confiscation of opium, intoxicating drugs or poppy-heads, under section 12 of the Opium Act, 1878, may grant to any person who has contributed in any way to the seizure of the confiscated property a reward not exceeding the value thereof as determined by the Collector, subject to such general or special orders as the Board may issue in this behalf.

26. (1) In any case in which, in the opinion of the Board, a person has performed service of special merit in respect of the prevention or detection of an offence against the Opium Act, 1878, the Board may grant him a reward not exceeding five hundred rupees in amount.

(2) The Board, or, with the sanction of the Board, a Collector may incur expenditure not exceeding five hundred rupees in each case for the employment of informers or for any other purpose connected with the prevention or detection of offences against the Opium Act, 1878.

3. Transport and export passes are to be in Forms XI to XIII; they must be signed by the Collector, or by an officer empowered in accordance with Rule 2(5) of the Government rules. All Excise Deputy Collectors and Subdivisional Officers are empowered to sign passes in Forms XI and XII.

Indents for opium.

4. Collectors are to submit indents, in Form XVIII, to the Board for opium required for consumption in their districts at least two months before a fresh supply is required. Copies of the indents should be sent to the Excise Commissioner for information. Indents are to be regulated so as to leave in hand on the 31st March of each year a stock equal to five months' consumption. Collectors who receive their supplies of opium direct from the Agent at Patna are to submit their indents to that officer.

N.B.—Loss of weight is often due to loss of moisture caused by long storage. Therefore an unnecessarily large reserve should not be kept, and the chests should invariably be issued in the order of their receipt. Care should be taken to protect the chests from damp and whiteants.

Receipt to be submitted on arrival of opium.

5. In districts in which opium is supplied by means of public carriage, and without the deputation of any special guard to receive charge of the opium at the supplying depôt, a receipt is, immediately on arrival of a despatch of opium, to be submitted to the Board (or the Agent at Patna) in Form XIX. Subsequently, on opening any chest, the name of the officer in whose presence it is opened is to be recorded in the Collector's office, as well as (a) the number of cakes in the chest; (b) the contents of each paper cover.

6. Whenever a despatch of opium in transit is handed over from one official's charge to that of another, its gross weight is to be ascertained and recorded.

Manner in which opium is to be stored and sold.

7. Ordinarily opium is to be kept in the treasury under the same custody as the cash, and must not, except under the special sanction of Government, be sold therefrom in quantities of less than one seer. If there is no room in the treasury, the opium is to be kept in some other safe place, which must be secured and guarded in the same manner as a treasury. If the Collector thinks it expedient, he may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, keep a sufficient quantity of opium for sale at a subdivision.

Exception.

8. In the districts of the Patna Division and in the district of Monghyr, and in the thanas of Sultangunge and Ameerpore in the district of Bhagulpore, the special sanction of Government has been given to the sale of opium in quantities of less than one seer from the treasury to licensed vendors.

Resolution, Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 3119, dated 12th August 1882.
Resolution, Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 409, dated 19th April 1884.

RESOLUTION—In supersession of the orders contained in the paper cited above, and with a view to reduce the work involved to local officers in reporting cases of opium smuggling, the following tabular statement is prescribed for adoption in future:—

1	2	3	4		5	6	7
Name of district.	Name and residence of accused.	Quantity of smuggled opium seized.	Province or Foreign State or village (if known) whence the opium was brought.		Supposed destination of the opium.	Whether brought by railway or road.	Designation of convicting Magistrate, date of conviction, punishment inflicted, and rewards paid, with any remarks which the local authorities desire to offer.
			(a) As stated by accused.	(b) As shown by the evidence.

2. Petty cases of opium smuggling in which conviction have been recorded should be reported half-yearly to this department in the form of the above statement.

3. Important cases (i.e., those in which the quantity of opium seized exceeds 40lbs. in weight, or in which any new information regarding organised and systematic smuggling is disclosed) should be submitted in the prescribed tabular form without delay, together with such special report as the circumstances may call for, for the information of the Government of India.

Custody of contraband opium.

Board's Circular order, No. 7 of August 1887.

Under the rules issued by the Inspector-General of Police, Lower Provinces, the Court Sub-Inspectors are to receive into their custody all contraband opium sent up in cases of opium smuggling, and the weight of the opium received in each case is to be entered in the Malkhanah Register kept by the Court Sub-Inspectors. All opium thus received by the court police should remain in their custody until despatched from the Magistrate's Court or otherwise disposed of under the rules. As the Court Sub-Inspectors are responsible for any loss of opium kept in their custody, Commissioners are requested to direct Collectors to take measures that no subordinates of the Magistrate's establishment are allowed to have access to the opium, or the opium allowed to pass into their hands. All such opium should be disposed of in accordance with the rules under the supervision of the court police.

Loss of weight in opium cakes on account of long storage.

Board's Circular order, No. 9 of December 1887.

It has been reported to the Board that there was slight loss of weight in some of the opium cakes in a certain district. From enquiries made it is clear that this was due to loss of moisture owing to long storage. It is therefore very necessary that an unnecessarily large stock should not be kept in reserve, and that the chests should invariably be issued in the order of their receipt. The reserve should in no case exceed the scale laid down in Rule 4 of the Subsidiary (Opium) Rules.

Payment of reward in opium cases.

Board's Circular order, No. 8 of May 1888.

As the Board have reason to believe that an impression exists that no reward is to be paid in opium cases, unless the fine inflicted by the Magistrate is realized, the attention of all officers is hereby drawn to rules 43, 44, and 45 of the Government revised opium rules and rules 18, 19, 20, 23, and 24 of the Board's subsidiary rules on the subject of the payment of rewards in opium cases.

Return of damaged or deteriorated opium.

Board's Circular order, No. 13 of January 1890.

In certain recent cases excise opium has been returned by District Officers as damaged or deteriorated, the drug on examination showing signs of having been affected by damp. The Board enjoin particular care on the part of District Officers to see that the chests of opium on arrival are stored in a dry place, where the contents are likely to be affected by atmospheric conditions as little as possible.

Abolition of the Quarterly Return of Opium Smuggling.

Board's Circular order, No. 9 of February 1890.

Quarterly Return No. 26 of cases of opium smuggling prescribed at the instance of the Opium Agent, Behar is hereby discontinued, the information it affords being supplied by annual return No. 103 of cases instituted under the Opium laws.

Disposal of fines.

79. The Board may appropriate any portion, not exceeding one half, of the fines levied under this Act, the disposal of which is not specially provided for, for rewarding informers, or for compensating persons subjected to annoyance or injury by any proceedings under this Act.

RULES MADE BY THE BOARD UNDER THE BENGAL EXCISE ACT.

SECTION I.—PRELIMINARY.

Sources of revenue.

1. THE following articles constitute the sources from which the excise revenue is derived :—

(a) Imported spirituous and fermented liquors.

(b) Spirituous and fermented liquors manufactured in this country according to the English method, the former *commonly called "country rum."

(c) Country spirit, i.e., any spirit made by the native process of distillation, *commonly called "country spirit," "country made spirit" or "doasta."

(d) Fermented liquors manufactured after the European or native process, including beer, tari, pachwai, and the like.

(e) Fresh târi.

(f) Ganja and preparations from the hemp plant, including charas, siddhi or bhang, and majum.

(g) Opium and its preparations, such as madak and chandu (see Part I, consisting of Act I of 1878 and separate rules issued under it).

Modes of taxation.

2. There are five different modes of taxation, viz. by—

(1) wholesale license fees ;

(2) retail license fees ;

(3) a duty or tax on the actual quantity of the article passing into consumption ;

(4) a tax on each still set up in a public distillery ;

(5) the licensing of out-stills.

Wholesale license fee.

3. A wholesale license fee is leviable in every district on—

(a) imported spirituous and fermented liquors ... ...

(b) spirituous and fermented liquors manufactured in this country according to the English method

} At the fixed rate of Rs. 50 annually.

Retail license fee.
Auction system.
Fixed license fee system.

4. A retail license fee is leviable on all the articles mentioned and in every district, including Calcutta. The fee varies according to circumstances, and is regulated by the rules which the Board may prescribe. There are two methods for imposing license fees, (1) by putting up the license to auction to the highest bidder, and (2) by fixing the fee according to the character of the locality, its population and other particulars. The first method is termed the "auction system," the second is known as the "fixed license fee system."

Fixed duty system.

5. The third mode of taxation, viz. the levy of duty on the quantity of spirit, liquor, or drug which passes into consumption, is called the "fixed duty system," and is applicable to spirituous and fermented liquors, whether imported or manufactured in this country according to the English method; to country spirits, ganja, siddhi or bhang, and charas. This tax is levied in addition to the license fee. In the case of imported spirits and liquors the tax is regulated by the Indian Tariff Act, XI of 1882, as* amended by Act IX of 1885, Act II of 1887, and Act XII of 1890, and is levied by the Customs authorities at the Custom-house. The fixed duty on spirit and liquor manufactured in this country is payable to the excise authorities. Under* article 2, schedule II (import tariff) of the amended Act XI of 1882, the duty on imported spirit is Rs. 6 per gallon London-proof. By* section 18 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, as amended by Act IX of 1885 the local Government may, from time to time, fix the duty of excise leviable on spirit manufactured in all or any of the distilleries situate in the territories under its administration. In accordance with this authority the duty on spirits manufactured in this country is changed from time to time. A table is given in Appendix B showing the rates at which duty is now levied by order of Government.

* B. C. O., 8 of June 1887.

6. The fourth mode of taxation consists in the monthly levy of a distillery fee from the distillers of country spirits on each gallon of liquor distilled, without reference to its strength, within the Government distillery. The fee is taken as payment for the use of the premises.

Distillery fee.

7. The fifth mode of taxation is by the licensing of outstills. A license is granted on the payment of a certain monthly fee for the establishment of a private still and the sale of its produce. The amount of the fee is sometimes fixed by the Collector; but it is usual to sell the right of establishing an outstill to the highest bidder above a fixed minimum fee under the auction system.

Outstills.

8. Licenses for the retail sale of tari, pachwai, siddhi or bhang, charas, ganja and majum, are granted to the highest bidder at auction. A minimum fee having been first fixed for each shop by the Collector, no duty besides the license fee is payable on any of these articles except on siddhi or bhang, charas, and ganja. As regards these articles the system thus described is called the "monthly tax system."

Monthly tax system.

(d) Four and-a-half seers of proof spirit (i.e., 50·76 parts water and 49·24 parts alcohol).

Limits of retail sale.

10. A vendor holding a license under section 13, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, is authorized to sell the undermentioned exciseable articles up to the limits given against them. Any licensed vendor who is found to sell in excess of the limits so fixed under section 15 of the Act without holding at the same time a wholesale license will render himself liable to the penalties laid down in section 60 :—

SECTION II.—RULES APPLICABLE GENERALLY.

Object of excise administration.

1. The object of the excise administration is to raise a revenue for Government by taxing the sale of spirituous liquors and drugs, in order to discourage intemperance, as far as it is possible to do so without interfering with the ordinary requirements of those classes of the people who are in the habit of using the articles thus taxed. For, if the difficulty of procuring them is increased beyond a certain limit, experience shows that their consumption is not checked, but their illicit preparation and distribution is resorted to.

* N. B.—For exceptions in favour of aboriginal tribes, see clauses 11 and 12, section xviii, post.

System of management. Duty of Collector and of Deputy Collector in charge of excise.

2. The Collector of each district is primarily responsible for the management of the excise of the district. At each sudder station, a Deputy Collector is placed in immediate charge of all the administrative details of the Excise Department, who is styled the Sudder Excise Deputy Collector. All orders issued by the Collector will pass through the Deputy Collector's hands, and all orders issued by the Deputy Collector will have the force of orders from the Collector, unless it is expressly stated to the contrary. The Excise Deputy Collector will work in personal consultation with the Collector, and official correspondence by letter between these two officers is strictly prohibited. The excise clerks and native officers of the Collector's establishment will be employed by the Deputy Collector under the Collector's general control.

Duty of Sub-divisional Officer.

3. The officer in charge of a sub-division will correspond with the Sudder Excise Deputy Collector on excise matters. Instructions issuing from the Sudder Excise Deputy Collector are to be understood to be the Collector's orders, but it is open to a Sub-divisional Office to represent directly to the Collector any matter that seems to call for his special attention. A Sub-divisional Officer should inspect the sudder distillery or spirit depôt at the head-quarters of his sub-division once a week, and should take an intelligent interest in excise matters throughout the sub-division. But there is no occasion for the Sub-divisional Officer to examine the daily returns sent by the Excise Officers to the Sudder Deputy Collector.

* B. C. O., 8 of July 1889.

Inspection of a district and a sub-divisional excise office.

4. *Every district office is to be inspected by the Collector not less than twice a year, and on each occasion an inspection report in the form No. 1 (Return XVI "Board's Rules, 1888"), given in Appendix A should be submitted to the Commissioner of Excise. The reports will be due to him by the 1st July and 1st January of each calendar year.

† B. C. O., 13 of January 1891.

The† excise department of a sub-divisional office should be inspected by a Collector as part of his regular inspection of a sub-division and by an Excise Deputy Collector quarterly, or often, if the sub-division is situated on a line of Railway, or is otherwise easy of access. The report of the inspection should be submitted to the Commissioner by the Collector and to the Collector by the Excise Deputy Collector in Form No. 2 given in Appendix A.

Preventive duties of Excise Darogah and Mohurir.

5. In districts where no special excise detective establishment exists, the Superintendent or Deputy Superintendent of a Sudder distillery should from time to time be deputed secretly, under the instructions of the Excise Deputy Collector to search for illicit distillation and for offenders against the excise laws. Where a special detective establishment is appointed, it will not ordinarily be necessary to employ the officers of the Sudder distillery system for any other duties than those

"In districts where the Sadar distillery system is in force, it will not ordinarily be necessary to employ the Superintendents, Deputy Superintendents and clerks of distilleries and the depôt clerks for any other duties than those appertaining to their distilleries and depôts, but when such duties do not occupy their whole time, it is competent to the Collector, with the permission of the Commissioner of Excise, to utilize their services for preventive and detective purposes within a distance of not more than five miles from their head-quarters. When any of the above-mentioned officers is so employed, he should be appointed an Excise Officer under section 34 of the Excise Act [VII (B.C.) of 1878]." 9-3-99.

which belong to their distilleries, but it is competent to the Sudder Excise Deputy Collector, with the permission of the Collector in special cases, or under exceptional circumstances, to utilize the services of the Distillery Officers for the above purposes.

Special detectives.

6. Officers of the special excise detective department will be employed under the direct orders of the sudder Excise Deputy Collector, acting under the general control of the Collector of the district, and subject to the orders issued from time to time by the Commissioner of Excise and the Board of Revenue for their guidance.

Permission of the Magistrates to be applied for conducting prosecutions.

7. *When the permission of a Magistrate is applied for by an ~~Excise Inspector~~ or Sub-Inspector under section 495 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, to conduct the prosecution in cases under the excise and opium laws, it has been ordered by Government that such permission, save in cases where there appear to be very strong grounds for refusing it, should be given. Before applying for permission to conduct the prosecution in such cases, ~~Excise Inspectors~~ and Sub-Inspectors must take the orders of the District Officer, and it will be the duty of the latter to discriminate in what cases it is desirable that the prosecution should be conducted by them. *B. C. O., 3 of June 1884.

Arrangements as a general rule to be annual.

8. Unless otherwise specified in these rules, or specially ordered by the Board, all excise licenses should be granted annually, to take effect from 1st April, the commencement of the official year. Licenses granted at other periods of the year are to remain in force only to the end of the year.

Annual settlements. Sites of shops.

9. The settlements of all excise licenses should be made in March for the ensuing year. In December, the Collector should decide on the number and sites of the retail shops to be licensed during the ensuing official year. He should notify to the Municipal Commissioners the sites selected for liquor shops within municipal limits, and should the Commissioners object to any of them, he should carefully consider their objections, and if he does not agree with them, should refer the matter to the Commissioner of Excise for decision, pending which he should not allow any shop to be opened on a site objected to. He should refer to the Magistrate and, where there is a cantonment, to the officer commanding the station, with a view to ascertain if there is any objection to any new site where it is proposed to open a new shop. No inquiry is needed as to the sites of old shops, unless the experience of the past year should have suggested doubts as to the advisability of renewing a license. No liquor shop should ordinarily be in a bazar or at the entrance to a bazar, nor near a bathing ghat or place of public resort, school, hospital, place of worship, factory, the interior of a village, the side of a road leading to a bathing ghat or a place of water-supply. In some districts the side of a main road or a village inhabited by aborginies of known drinking habits should also be avoided. A liquor shop should not be inaccessible to persons requiring liquor, but it should not be in such a situation as to obtrude itself on the attention of the public, or to render persons passing by subject to annoyance from persons drinking. No outstill should be sanctioned unless there is a bonâ fide local demand for it ascertained by enquiry and proved by the desire of an individual to open it. Local opinion as to the sites of liquor shops should be consulted as far as possible.

† B. C. O., 8 of July 1889.

List of shops.

10. †The list as finally determined should be kept in the Collector's office in the detailed forms 3 and 3*a* given in Appendix A, and a copy of it should be submitted to the Commissioner of Excise before the 15th January. After the list has received his approval, it will not be competent to the police authorities, save in special and exceptional cases, to object to the sites. After the settlement proposals are sanctioned by the Commissioner, no change of site will be made without his sanction. An abstract list of shops (in duplicate) should also be submitted to the Commissioner of Excise in Form 4 Appendix A, who will submit to the Board for orders a copy of this list and an abstract of the detailed list in Forms 5 and 5*a*, Appendix A, with his opinion on the Collector's recommendations. In submitting these lists the Collector should state on what dates the auction sales for the settlement of excise shops are to be held in his district, and whether such dates have been fixed in consultation with the neighbouring district officers.

Definition of site of a shop.

11. When the site of a shop is put up to auction, it includes the space within a certain radius from the particular shop or house which is actually entered and named in the auction list.

Site how fixed.

12. The site of a shop is fixed by the Collector and approved by the Magistrate and confirmed by the Board before the auction takes place. After* the settlement proposals are sanctioned by the Board under clause 10, changes of sites will rest with the Commissioner of Excise subject to appeal to the Board. After the auction has been held, a further reference to the Magistrate is required by the orders of Government as to the character of the person to whom the license is assigned. If the license-holder is a new applicant for a shop, the Magistrate should be asked if he knows anything against him. If his license is merely a renewal, no inquiry is ordinarily necessary It is, however, open to the Magistrate to bring to notice any case in which the holder of a license appears to him to be unsuitable. The Magistrate will doubtless exercise this interference with due caution, reporting only such cases as may have been the subject of magisterial enquiry, or have fallen under his own personal knowledge or that of his subordinate responsible Police Officers. It is not desirable that objections should be raised to the holder of a license merely on the report of a subordinate Police Officer, and without a proper enquiry by the district head of the police or his assistant.

B. C O., 8 of July 1889.

Special Rules for Calcutta.

13. In Calcutta the following special rules apply:—

(i) A certificate from the Commissioner of Police, as prescribed by section 36, Act IV (B.C.) of 1866, is required before a license can be finally granted and issued bythe Excise Superintendent.

(ii) Under the auction system the auction purchaser should apply to the Commissioner of Police for the certificate equired after the auction has been held.

Insert the following clause after clause 10, Section II, page 104 :—

"10A.—The following modification of the preceding rule is allowed in respect of tari shops :—

(a) One copy of the detailed list in Form 3A shall be prepared and kept for use in the District Office, in respect of tari shops of all values proposed for

(iii) Under the fixed license fee system the application to open a shop or hotel should be made in the first instance to the Excise Superintendent, who, if he approves of the application, will endorse a certificate to that effect thereon and the applicant shall then apply to the Commissioner of Police for the grant of the certificate required by section 36, Act IV (B.C.) of 1866.

(iv) By* the word "site" is meant the spot on which a shop stands or is to be established. The Excise Superintendent is the lawful authority, under the control of the Commissioner and the Board, to determine the site of each shop which is to be licensed. Under the orders of Government the Excise Superintendent is required to consult the Commissioner of Police to ascertain if there is any objection to any new site proposed for a shop. No new site shall be let by auction or otherwise, till it is approved by both the Commissioner of Police and the Excise Superintendent, subject to a reference to the Commissioner of Excise in case of disagreement. If the Commissioner of Excise differs in opinion with the Commissioner of Police, the question shall be referred for the orders of the Board of Revenue.

* B. C. O. 7 of June 1888.

(v) No shop shall be opened on a new site unless a notification shall have been affixed, at the least 15 days before the grant of the license, at the police-station and in some conspicuous place on or near the proposed site. The notification shall state, for the information of the public, that it is proposed to open a shop (specifying the kind of shop) on the site in question; and the Superintendent shall carefully consider all objections urged by the inhabitants against the opening of such shop, in communication with the Commissioner of Police, and in the event of a difference of opinion shall refer the matter through the Commissioner of Excise for the decision of the Board of Revenue.

(vi) The Commissioner of Police shall forward to the Commissioner of Excise half-yearly a list of sites on which it is considered objectionable that shops should be retained.

(vii) No license shall be renewed for any shop on a site included in the said list, except under the special authority of the Board subject to the provisions of rule (iv.)

(viii) A hotel or shop must be opened in the name of the licensee only, and no licensee shall be allowed to transfer or sublet his license without the consent of the Excise Department, which shall be given only in accordance with the provisions of rules (i) to (iii).

14. Except† in districts where minimum prices have been prescribed by the Board, no attempt should be made to regulate the price at which spirits, liquors, or drugs are supplied by the producer or wholesale dealer to the retail vendor, or by the retail vendor to the consumer.

Excise Officer not to interfere with selling price.

† B. C. O. 4 of May 1888.

15. All old licenses should be called in at the end of the year. No new license should be granted to a previous license-holder until he has returned his time-expired or cancelled license to the Collector or satisfied the Collector that he cannot do so. If a license-holder does not surrender his expired license, special notice should be given to the magisterial authorities to prevent the sale of any exciseable article by such person.

Time-expired licenses.

Note.—A previous license-holder on obtaining a new license must forthwith surrender his old license, the fact of his holding a license for the current year being noted on his new license which will run as usual from the commencement (1st April) of the ensuing year. No note will be necessary in the case of a new license-holder.

16. A license is not transferable, and the holder of a license is prohibited from subletting his shop. A breach of this rule shall be punished with cancelment of the license and forfeiture of any advance made under it, and the shop shall be resettled in such manner as the Collector thinks fit. Benami* transactions must not be permitted. Licenses should be granted only to bonâ fide vendors. On† the death of the holder of any license the district officer may renew the license on the same terms, to the son, or other representative of the deceased, without calling for any deposit beyond the two months' fees deposited in advance at the time of the settlement. The district officer will be responsible for seeing that the person in whose favour the license is renewed is a fit person to hold it, and that any arrears (in the way of tax) due from the deceased licensee are recovered before the license is so renewed.

Licenses not transferable.

* B. C. O., 13 of March 1886.

† B. C. O., 9 of December 1889.

17. The Collector, Excise Deputy Collector, or Sub-divisional Officer by whom the excise settlement is made, is required to deliver each license to the person entitled to receive it, after satisfying himself that the amount of license fee payable in advance has been duly paid.

License to be given to the licensee by the Excise Settlement Officer.

A fee of Rs. 2 (two) should be levied for the issue of a duplicate license. The amount should be credited under the head of Miscellaneous Excise Revenue.

18. Printed forms of licenses and of receipts for license fees will be supplied to Collectors [forms Nos. 6 (old No. 1) et seq, Appendix A]. The forms will be bound up in books, with counterfoils, and with the pages numbered, and can be obtained on indent from the Superintendent of Stationery.

Forms of license.

19. Combined licenses to sell country spirits, country rum, or imported liquors may be taken out by the same person for one and the same shop, or separate shops subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Excise.

Combined licenses.

20. A vendor may not throw up his license at the close of the year, unless he gives the notice prescribed by section 27, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878. Under the same section, a license, although not formally renewed at the beginning of a new year, remains in force if it is not recalled by the Collector.

Licenses to remain in force till given up or withdrawn.

21. Except as provided in clause 19, only one shop may be carried on under one license, and each license must have a distinct number on the Register No. 7 (49 "Board's Rules 1888"). Dependent shops, unregistered, are not allowed.

License covers one shop only.

"A form of the combined license is given in Appendix A, bearing No. 138." 1-10-91.

23 ✓ "7A and 7B." 14-4-92.

"When the shop closed is held on the fixed duty system, the Excise Officer will give a certificate of the time of closure, and compensation will be fixed by the Collector with reference to the average daily sales of the shop and the net profit per gallon. The difference between the market price at which the spirits are sold to the consumer, and the cost price including duty as well as contingent expenses at the rate of $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. of the sale-proceeds, but excluding the license-fee, may be taken to be the vendor's profit on each gallon sold. For instance, if the sale-proceeds are Rs. 16 and price paid to distiller is Rs. 2, duty Rs. 4 and contingent expenses Re. 1, the net profit will be $16-(2+4+1)=$Rs. 9."

11-2-95.

Jurisdiction.

22. A Collector must be guided by the definition of a "Collectorate" in section 3, Act VI of 1853, in determining his excise jurisdiction. A Collector is not authorized to license shops in isolated villages within the jurisdiction of another Collector, because they form part of an estate paying revenue into his own treasury.

Registers of licenses.

23. The Collector shall keep a Register No. 7 (old No. 49) Appendix A, of all licenses granted by him for the year, as* well as a separate Register No. 8 (old No. 49A), Appendix A, of all temporary licenses. There is to be a separate register for each different kind of license.

* B. C. O., 18 of September 1888.

Information to Magistrate.

24. Information is to be sent to the Magistrate whenever an excise shop is opened or closed.

March of European or native troops.

25. Every distillery and shop for the vend of spirituous liquors on, or adjacent to, the line of march must be closed while European troops are passing or are encamped in the vicinity, and may be closed during the passage of native troops on the requisition of the officer in command.

Darogah to close each shop.

26. The Excise Officer, on receiving intimation of the approach of European troops, is to depute a subordinate to close each shop, from the time the advance guard approaches till the rear guard has passed onwards a full mile; he will report to his superior when each shop was closed and when re-opened.

Collector to warn Excise Officer.

27. The Collector, on receiving intimation of the march of European troops, is to give timely information to the Excise Officer, who will be held responsible for the due observance of these rules.

Civil Officers to enforce closure.

28. The Civil Officer accompanying European troops is to see that these rules are carried out, and may apply to the Commanding Officer for a guard to enforce them, if necessary.

Compensation for closure of a monthly tax shop;

29. When the shop closed is licensed on the outstill system or on the monthly tax system, the Excise Officer is to give a certificate to the vendor, and calculate the compensation due to him at the monthly rate specified in the license, plus 10 per cent. for loss of profits; for instance, if a shop paying 30 rupees a month is closed for five days in a month of thirty days, the vendor will be entitled to a compensation of 5 rupees 8 annas; but if the shop is closed for the same number of days in a month of twenty-eight days, the compensation will be 5 rupees 14 annas and 3 pies. No compensation is to be allowed for any day on which a shop may have been closed for less than six hours between sunrise and sunset. When it has been closed for more than six such hours compensation shall be allowed for the whole day.

and on the fixed duty system.

30. When the shop closed is held on the fixed duty system, the Excise Officer will give a certificate of the time of closure, and compensation will be fixed by the Collector with reference to the average daily sales of the shop and daily incidence of the license fee. The difference between the average cost of manufacture and the market price at which the spirits are sold to the consumer, minus the duty and 10 per cent. as contingent expenses, may be taken to be the vendor's profit on each gallon sold.

30 31. Compensation for closing shops is not to be treated in account as a deduction from the amount of tax payable by holders of licenses, but the sum is to be paid to the party entitled to it, and charged in the public accounts as a payment.* Compensation will be granted by District Officers under the orders of the Commissioner of Excise.

How to be shown in account.

* B. C. O., 4 of February 1891.

31 32. Whenever a license is recalled or cancelled under section 29, Act VII (B.C) of 1878, for default of payment of the license fee, or for breach of any condition of the license, or in consequence of the holder being convicted of a non-bailable* criminal offence, it is not necessary for the Collector to give any notice of such withdrawal, and the licensee is not entitled to any compensation in consequence of such withdrawal, nor to receive back any portion of the license fee which he may have paid in advance.

Recall or cancellation of license.

* B. C. O., 3 of October 1890.

SECTION III.—RULES APPLICABLE TO THE AUCTION SYSTEM.

1. Under Act VII (B.C.) of 1878 the Board are empowered to levy and fix a license fee payable in advance, and to make it a condition of a license that if the fee is not paid in the manner provided by the terms of the license, such license shall be cancelled, and the fee already paid forfeited. The amount of monthly license fee payable is determined by competition at public auction, held at stated periods, subject to conditions duly advertised, the most important of which is that the Collector binds himself not to issue a license in the course of the year under settlement, save under rare and exceptional circumstances, for any shop other than those specified in the list exhibited at the time of sale, and also for public inspection at the Collectorate some days before the sale. A person intending to purchase has thus the means of forming an estimate of the amount of competition he may expect in carrying on his business. The next chief feature in the system, which is solely in the interest of Government, is that, beside the payment of a month's fee on the date on which the license commences, an advance of two months' fees is required, in order to guard against loss during the time the shop may remain closed and the license be undisposed of in the event of the sudden resignation of a license. The Collector does not bind himself to accept the highest bid —a condition framed in the interest of the old licensees, whose offers the Collector is thus enabled to accept in preference even to higher bidders. The condition is also intended to prevent fraud and combination, and to act as a check on fictitious or speculative bidders.

General description of auction system.

"A daily report of the progress of settlements should also be submitted to the Commissioner of Excise in form No. 9A given in Appendix A." 2-7-95.

The auction system is in force in Calcutta, the Suburbs, Howrah and Bally as regards every exciseable article except imported liquors and fresh tari. In other parts of the Lower Provinces it is in force except for the sale of imported liquors and tari. Hotel, Bar, Restaurant, Steamer and Railway Refreshment-room licenses are not, however, put up to auction. 14-2-93.

The auction system is in force in Calcutta, the Suburbs, Howrah, and Bally as regards every excisable article, except imported liquors and fresh tari. In other parts of the Lower Provinces the system does not extend to licenses for the sale of fresh tari, but it extends to the letting of general retail licenses for the sale of imported liquor, subject to the exception laid down in clause 35 of this section, and to the sale of fermented tari and pachwai, subject to the exceptions laid down in section XVIII, clauses 5(a) and 5(b). 3-4-96.

The auction system is in force in Calcutta, the Suburbs, Howrah, and Bally as regards every exciseable article except imported liquors and fresh tari. In other parts of the Lower Provinces the system does not extend to licenses for the sale of tari, both fresh and fermented, and it extends to the letting of general retail licenses for the sale of imported liquor subject to the exception laid down in clause 35 of this section, and to pachwai subject to the exception laid down in section XVIII, clause 5(b).

2. The auction system is in force in Calcutta and the Suburbs as regards every exciseable article. Elsewhere, it is in force as regards every exciseable article but fresh tári.

Where in force.

3. The term of the license is ordinarily one year, but* by the direction of the Board, under section 27 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, settlements may be made for any other period, such as, for three years. But the grant of a triennial license in any district or part of a district in which the rate* of Rs. 5 per gallon, London-proof, is not levied, does not in any way bind the Government not to raise the duty during the currency of the licenses, and the licensee is not entitled to claim abatement or compensation on the ground of loss of profits in consequence of an increase in the rate of duty.

Term of license.

* B. C. O., 8 of May 1887.

4. If, however, during the term of a triennial license the duty on country spirit should be raised, it will be optional with the licensee to relinquish his license; also in the event of the duty being lowered, the Collector will be authorized to cancel such licenses as he may think proper. But such relinquishment or cancellation of license shall not subject the licensee to any forfeiture of his advance.

Proviso.

5. After the number of shops has been fixed and settled in any district in the manner directed in clause 9, section II of these rules, no new shop of the same class in excess of that number is to be opened during the year, but the Collector may establish temporary shops at fairs or melas when he thinks that the nearest shop to such fair or mela will not provide for the wants of the people attending it. Provided that, when no objection is raised by any other licensee, the site of a shop may be changed during the year with the sanction of the Commissioner of Excise.

New shop not to be opened during the year. Exception.

6. In districts in which triennial licenses may be granted, it is not intended to open any other shop during the term of the license, but the Collector does not absolutely bind himself in this respect. On special cause shown, and with the sanction of the Board in each case, the number of shops may be increased. Provided that, whenever a new shop may be opened, it will be optional to any holder of a license for the sale of liquors or drugs similar to those to be sold in the new shop, if his shop be within a mile of the new shop, to surrender his license, without forfeiting his advance, when the Collector will resettle the shop by auction or otherwise.

Exception in mofussil.

7. In Calcutta, as a general rule, it is not intended to open any shops in addition to those previously determined upon and duly notified to the public; but on special cause being shown, and with the permission of the Board, the number of shops may be increased; provided that whenever a new shop may be opened it will be optional to any holder of a license for the sale of liquors or drugs similar to those to be sold in the new shop, if his shop be within a quarter of a mile of the new shop, to surrender his license without forfeiting his advance, when the Collector will resettle the shop by auction or otherwise.

Exception in Calcutta.

8. The list of shops to be sold is to be kept open for general inspection at the Collectorate at least a fortnight before the date fixed for the sale, and is also to be appended to the notification of sale by auction.

List of shops open for inspection.

9. This notification should be prepared in form No. 10 (old No. 2), given in Appendix A, and should be published in English and in the vernacular of the district at least a fortnight before the date fixed by the Collector for holding the auction, which will ordinarily be in the beginning of March each year. A copy of the notification should be posted at the Collectorate, at the sub-divisional offices, at each public distillery, and other appropriate places under the Collector's orders.

Notification.

10. In addition to the above notification of sale, a special notice should be exhibited outside the building in which the auction will be held, announcing that, subject to the notified conditions of sale, any person who chooses may bid without payment of any fee whatsoever for admission to the sale-room. At the time of sale the officer conducting the proceedings should enquire if any person present has been required to pay any fee beforehand, and should explain that such payment is forbidden, and that nothing is gained by it.

Special notice.

11. The* annual excise settlements are to be arranged and made by the Collector or the Sudder Excise Deputy Collector, assisted by the Sub-divisional Officers, ordinarily at the Sudder station of each district, but in any special case, as in that of a sub-division situated at a long distance or separated by a large river from the Sudder station, or when considered desirable on other grounds, the Collector may, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner of Excise, authorize a Sub-divisional Officer to make the annual settlements of his sub-divisional excise shops at the headquarters of his sub-division.

* B. C. O., 3 of July 1886.

Annual excise settlements.

12. The dates of the annual settlements or auction sales (see clause 9) are to be fixed in communication with the Sub-divisional Officers, and fifteen days' previous notice of such dates must be given to all the abkars and intending bidders in the district as well as in the neighbouring districts.

Dates of annual settlements.

13. On the dates so fixed, the Sub-divisional Officers are to arrange to attend at such sales for the purpose of assisting the Collector, or the Sudder Excise Deputy Collector who may be conducting the sales, to secure proper license fees for the excise shops of their respective sub-divisions. The Collector will, however, have power to dispense with the attendance of any Sub-divisional Officer on any special grounds, and no sale need be postponed on the ground of the absence of the Sub-divisional Officer unless the Collector thinks fit to do so.

Sub-divisional Officers to attend at sales.

14. The Collector or the Sudder Excise Deputy Collector should, as a rule, preside at the annual auction sales; but the Collector may, with the sanction of the Commissioner of Excise, previously obtained, depute any other officer to preside.

The Collector or the Sudder Excise Deputy Collector to preside at the annual auction sales

"The list will be prepared for outstills in Form No. 3, omitting column 15, and for licenses other than outstills, in Form No. 3A, omitting column 10 (Appendix A, page 186)." 16-3-99.

"The Collector will put up a license to auction at any price at his discretion. In the event of the reserved price sanctioned by the Board not being reached in any particular case, the Collector will report the circumstances, with an explanation, to the Commissioner of Excise for orders. The same procedure will be observed in the case of the re-settlement during the year of all cancelled or abandoned excise licenses." 16-3-99.

15. In the case of any difference of opinion between, on the one hand, the officer presiding at the auction sales, whether the Sudder Excise Deputy Collector or other officer deputed by the Collector, and on the other hand a Sub-divisional Officer, as to the acceptance of a bid for any shop or other material point, the matter must be referred to the Collector.

In case of difference of opinion the matter to be referred to the Collector.

16. The presiding officer must be on his guard against the combination of bidders at the sale. With a view to ensuring healthy competition, and to prevent prices being forced down by a few wealthy monopolists, all legitimate means must be taken to ensure the attendance at these sales of bidders from outside of a class willing to take and hold excise shops. This duty is one more especially devolving on the Excise Deputy Collectors and the officers of the department.

The presiding officer to guard against combination of bidders.

17. All settlements made by any officer subordinate to the Collector require the latter's sanction.

Settlements made by an officer subordinate to the Collector require the Collector's sanction.

18. The Collector, or other officer holding the sale, will inform the bidders that what is sold at auction is a right to open a shop at a fixed site or at some locality in its immediate vicinity, being within a certain distance from it, to be mentioned by the Collector at the auction, as the maximum distance from such site within which it will be permitted to open a shop.

Should carefully define what is meant by the site offered for sale.

19. The Collector, or other officer holding the sale, should be careful to avoid vagueness of description of locality. He should expressly specify that the auction-purchaser will be bound within a measured distance from some fixed spot, or within a particular tract, the boundaries of which should be so described as to leave no possible room for misapprehension.

Should carefully avoid vagueness of description of locality.

20. In case of combination, or for any other cause, the Collector may transfer, before settlement, any shop from the locality specified to some other locality in the neighbourhood.

Combination.

21. The Collector will put up a shop to auction at an upset price approved by the Board (see clause 9, section II). In *the event of the upset price not being accepted in a particular case, the Collector will report the circumstance with an explanation to the Commissioner of Excise, and await the orders of the Board. In the case of the resettlement during the year of all cancelled or abandoned excise licenses, when the highest offer obtained is lower than the upset price which was fixed at the annual settlement, the sanction of the Commissioner of Excise may be accepted as final.

Upset price.

* B. C. O., 3 of November 1886.

22. In Calcutta the settlement with the accepted auction-purchaser will be contingent on no objection being made by the Police authorities to his character. He should produce the certificate from the Commissioner of Police prescribed by section 36, Act IV (B.C.) of 1866. In the mofussil it is not necessary to obtain a police certificate, the settlement being made subject to no objection being offered by the Magistrate to the applicant's character.

Police certificate.

23. Except as provided in the next clause and in clause 11, section XVI, the license-fee is payable in advance in the following instalments, namely, the sum equivalent to the fee for two months at the time of sale, and one month's fee on the date on which the currency of the license commences, and one month's fee on the 1st of every succeeding month, until the whole of the fee due on the license has been realized.

License fee how payable.

24. On licenses for the sale of pachwai, charas, siddhi, and majum, an advance is to be taken at the time of sale equal to one month's fee, and the rest of the tax is payable in instalments once or twice a month as the Collector may think fit, viz. on the 1st and 16th of each month, commencing from the date on which the currency of the license begins. The* same rule applies to târi, except in the 24-Pergunnahs and the districts of the Patna Division, where an advance of one and a half month's fee shall be taken. In the districts of the Patna Division, and in certain districts of the Bhagulpore and Chota Nagpore Divisions, subject to the payment of advance fee as above at the time of sale, the payment of fees shall be in the following manner :—

Exception in case of pachwai, charas, târi, &c., &c.

The one month's fee payable in advance will be considered as due on account of the first quarter for which the license is held, in addition to the fee due in respect of that quarter : allowance, however, for such advance payments must be made in calculating the demand for the fourth quarter. In† Hazaribagh and Lohardugga any one of these three modes of payment by instalment may be adopted at the Deputy Commissioner's discretion.

† B. C. O., 9 of June 1885.

25. The licenses will be put up to auction in separate lots in the order specified in the notification, and when one license or lot has been sold, the officer conducting the sale will not proceed to put up to auction the next license until the sum payable in advance on account of the license already sold has been actually paid; provided, however, that where the sum payable exceeds Rs. 25, a promissory note may be taken from any respectable and well-known purchaser in lieu of cash payment. When a lot is knocked down, the purchaser is liable for any loss that may accrue to Government in case it becomes necessary to re-sell the lot for a lower license fee in consequence of his failure to pay in the sum payable at the time of sale or to redeem his promissory note on or before 4 P.M. of the day following the day on which the promissory note was signed. It will be expressly notified by the officer holding the sale that each bidder whose bid is accepted is subject to this condition in case of his failing to make good his bid, and will be immediately sued in the Civil Court in case of default. One* of the treasury poddars should be required to attend the sales and receive the advance fees paid by the licensees. All sums received by the poddar up to 2 P.M. are to be sent to the treasury and credited in that day's accounts, and the amounts paid subsequently on the same day are to be kept in sealed bags in the treasury and brought to account the next day. At the close of each sale day the Excise Deputy Collector is to satisfy himself, by personal communication with the Treasury Officer, that the remittances to, and the receiptsin, the treasury on account of that day agree.

* B. C. O., 10 of September 1888.

Promissory note.

26. The promissory notes shall be made payable on demand and in the Form No. 11 given in Appendix A, and shall bear a stamp of one anna. They will be issued to the Collector bound up in books, and the Collector, before the auction day, should affix adhesive stamps of one anna to as many forms as are likely to be required, the cost of the stamp being afterwards recovered from the person executing the promissory note.

Procedure in case of default.

27. Where the amount of the sum payable in advance is required to be paid at once in cash, and the bidder fails to make such payment, the officer conducting the sale may either put up the lot again for sale immediately, or may order it to be put up to sale after the other lots in the notification have been disposed of, or he may postpone the sale to such future date as he shall then and there notify; and the defaulting purchaser may be debarred from bidding for this lot or for any other lot, and he may be required at once to leave the auction room.

License may be cancelled for default.

28. Failure to comply with the conditions as to payment of the license fee shall be met by the immediate cancelment of the license and resettlement of the shop.

Recall or cancellation of license.

29. The auction-purchaser will not be entitled to receive back any portion of the license fee paid by him in advance in the event of a shop being closed before the expiration of the term of the license, except as provided in section 29, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, and in the case of the surrender of a license under section 30 of that Act he will be liable to pay a sum equal to the license fee for fifteen days over and above the amounts already paid in advance.

[Note.—When a license is surrendered after the 1st of the month, in addition to forfeiture of the advance fee, the fee for the whole of the month in which the notice of surrender is given by the licensee, together with the fifteen days' penalty fee payable under section 30 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, is to be realized. If, therefore, a vendor desires to avoid liability for the fee due on the 1st of the following month, he must give notice under section 30 not later than the 15th of the current month.

B. C. O., 2 of March 1886.

As the two conditions under which a licensee may surrender his license, viz.—(1) by giving 15 day's previous notice, and (2) by paying 15 days' fee as a penalty, must be read together, no written notice of surrender should be accepted, unless it is accompanied by payment of the 15 days' fee, or until such fee is paid. This fee should be included in the total demand shown in the Monthly Return No. XVI for the month in which the notice is given.

B. C. O. 6 of October 1889.

Signature of auction-purchaser.

30. At the time of sale the person accepted as the auction-purchaser shall sign his name, or affix his mark, against the entry of the shop in the copy of the list of shops by which the Collector or other officer is conducting the sale, it being understood that the deposit will be returned to any person to whom a license may be subsequently refused for police reasons.

License when to commence.

31. The term of the license will ordinarily commence on the 1st April each year, and the auction-purchaser will be required to open his shop within fifteen days from that date, failing which the license will be cancelled, the sum paid in advance forfeited, and the license fee for the month will be levied from the auction-purchaser, the Collector being at liberty to issue a fresh license at once. In cases of hardship in which the delay may have arisen from causes beyond the auction-purchaser's control, the Collector may at his discretion extend the time within which the shop may be opened.

* B. C. O., 13 of January 1889.

License when to commence in Calcutta.

32. In Calcutta the following rule will apply:—That the auction-purchaser shall open his shop on the 1st April 18 , in all respects prepared for the accommodation of customers, to be certified by an Excise Officer, failure to comply with this condition being met by the immediate cancelment of the license, forfeiture of the deposit sum paid in advance for the license, and the levy of the fee for the month from the auction-purchaser; the Collector being at liberty to issue a fresh license at once, except in the case of delay caused by non-issue of the Police certificate, for which a reasonable extension of time will be allowed upon application to the Collector.

Licensee bound by excise laws and rules.

33. The auction-purchaser shall be bound to adhere to all the provisions of the excise laws and of the rules which may from time to time be prescribed by the Board.

Renewal of licenses.

34. Under the special orders and authority of the Commissioner of Excise, the license-holders, or such of them as may be selected by the Collector, may at a fresh annual settlement be allowed to renew their licenses for the ensuing official year at the existing rate of fee. Persons who wish to avail themselves of this privilege should give notice to the Collector a week before the fixed date of sale. The Collector may, however, put up to auction any such shop, the license fee of which he may consider to have been inadequate.

Exceptions.

35. In districts in which the auction system is in force, an exception may be made in favour of shops selling imported liquors only, provided the stock in hand represents some outlay of capital. In such shops the rate of fee may be fixed by the Collector. The operation of this rule should be closely watched, and its conditions should not be held applicable to shops hitherto selling country liquor or country rum, as well as imported liquor.

Precautions against fraud.

36. Under clause 5, section V, of these rules, the fee for a hotel license is a fixed fee. Attempts having been made in several districts to take out a hotel license instead of an ordinary retail license for a shop, in order to avoid competition at auction, the Collector should be on his guard against granting hotel licenses except for houses which are bonâ fide places for the lodging and entertainment of travellers. On discovery of the existence of any hotel license improperly obtained in the manner above described, the Collector will be at liberty to recall the license and resettle at auction the shop which the license covers.

clauses 9 and 19. 14-2-93.

"Subject to the exceptions laid down in clause 35, section III, page 114, licenses for the retail vend of imported liquors shall ordinarily be put up to auction." 12-5-95.

1. Under section 11, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, imported spirituous and fermented liquors can be sold only under license. Licenses for the sale of imported liquors will not cover the sale of spirits manufactured in India, except those manufactured in India after the English method beyond the limits of the Lower Provinces and within those limits at the Albion distillery at Sibpur in the district of Howrah and at such other place or places to which the Board may from time to time extend this concession.

What exciseable articles may be sold under licenses for the sale of such liquors.

2. Licenses for the sale of imported spirituous and fermented liquors are of three kinds—wholesale, retail, and combined. Combined licenses, which authorise sale by wholesale and retail, shall be granted only in Calcutta, the Suburbs, Howrah and Bally.

Licenses that may be granted.

3. In Calcutta, the Suburbs, Howrah and Bally, the fee to be levied under section 12, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, for a wholesale license shall be Rs. 300, for a retail license Rs. 1,000, and for a combined license Rs. 1,200 a year. These licenses shall be granted by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, Calcutta, subject to the proviso that no new retail or combined license shall be granted in excess of the sanctioned number of retail licenses, and that the site does not fall within a quarter of a mile of a country spirit or rum retail shop. These limitations are not in force in districts other than Calcutta, the Suburbs, Howrah and Bally.

Licenses for retail vend in Calcutta, &c., do not authorise sale by the glass.

8. No wholesale license shall ordinarily authorise sale beyond the limits of the jurisdiction of the officer granting it; but for the convenience of travelling merchants carrying liquors for sale in transit, any Collector granting a wholesale license may make it general under section 12, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, by endorsing on it the names of any districts in which the holder wishes to sell, provided that no such license shall authorise sales in Calcutta, the Suburbs, Howrah or Bally. SECTION IV.—RULES APPLICABLE TO THE FIXED LICENSE-FEE SYSTEM.

Fixed license-fee system.

1. Under the fixed license-fee system the Collector, subject to confirmation by the Commissioner of Excise, determines the minimum fee to be demanded for a retail license, having regard to the class of shop, the character of the locality, and its requirements. The system is in force in certain districts in the case of those articles to which the auction system has not been extended, and is also applied in every district, including Calcutta, in the case of licenses which the Collector may fail to dispose of under the auction system for want of competition or any other cause.

Character of applicant for license.

2. Under the auction system the Magistrate's approval of the character of the license purchaser cannot be obtained until after the sale has taken place; but under the fixed fee system an applicant for a license may be required to produce his certificate of character before a license is given him.

Term of license.

3. The term of the license shall be for one year.

4. Clauses 23, 24, 31, 32, 33, 34, and 36 of Section III are applicable mutatis mutandis in the case of licenses disposed of under this system.

SECTION V.—IMPORTED SPIRITUOUS AND FERMENTED LIQUORS.

Licenses for wholesale and retail vend.

1. Under section 11, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, imported spirituous and fermented liquors can be sold only under license. The wholesale license is to be in Form 12—(old No. 3) in Appendix A. Such a license does not ordinarily authorize sale beyond the limits of the jurisdiction of the officer who grants it; but, for the convenience of travelling merchants, who carry liquors for sale in transit, any Collector who grants a license is authorized to make the wholesale license general under section 12, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, endorsing on it the names of the districts in which the holder wishes to sell. The grant of every such license should be notified to the Collectors of the districts in which it is made current.

but may be made general.

License for retail vend.

3. A retail license in Calcutta, unless held by a person who also holds a license to sell rum and country spirits to be drunk on the premises, does not authorize the holder to sell liquor to be drunk on the premises, or in less quantity than one pint bottle. These limitations are not in force in districts beyond Calcutta. The retail licenses in use are in Form 13 (old No. 4) for the mofussil, and in Forms 15 and 17 (old Nos. 4A and 4B) in Appendix A, for Calcutta.

Both may be held.

4. A wholesale license and a retail license, for the vend of liquors, as aforesaid, may be held by the same person at one time.

Hotel licenses.

5. Licenses may be granted in Form 18 (old No. 5) in Appendix A by the Superintendent of Excise in Calcutta or by the Collector of a district for hotels and public houses. In Calcutta, the Suburbs, and Howrah, hotels, that is (with reference to section III, clause 36) houses which are bonâ fide places for the lodging and entertainment of travellers, may be either of a first class or of a second class standard, according as they are made to conform with the requirements specified in the following rules:—

I.—A house, in which there is provided accommodation as follows, may be a hotel of the first class, viz. first, a public room or public rooms (not exceeding three), containing space in the aggregate not less than 18,000 cubic feet; second, bed-rooms for not less than 12 persons. The bed-room space, exclusive of bath-room, assigned to each person to be not less than 1,000 cubic feet, and not less than three of the bath-rooms to be pucca.

III.—The accommodation to be provided as specified in rules I and II for the public rooms, bed-rooms, and bath-rooms is to be exclusive of the accommodation provided for (a) billiards, (b) the holder of the hotel license, the manager, the family of either, and the establishment.

IV.—A holder of a hotel license is not permitted, by the foregoing rules, to set up or maintain a "bar" or open a "restaurant" for the sale of liquor.

V.—The fee for each hotel license, whether of the first or second class, shall (except as provided in these rules) be Rs. 200 a year (payable quarterly in advance), as required by clause 5 of this section.

be granted a "late-closing license" which will enable him to keep his hotel open till not later than 1-30 A.M.

*The following graduated scale of fees is prescribed for late-closing licenses:— * B. C. O. 7 of April 1889.

Hour of closing.	Monthly license fee.

VII.—A holder of a hotel license desirous of setting up and maintaining in his hotel a "bar" or "bars" may, on payment of a fee of Rs. 50 a month for each "bar," be granted a separate license, to be called a "bar license." A bar may be kept open from sunrise to any* time not later than that named in the police certificate granted for a bar by the Commissioner of Police, provided that such time be not later than 11 P.M. in a hotel of the first class, and 10 P.M. in the case of a hotel of the second class. * B. C. O., 16 of May 1890.

VIII.—With a view to induce persons desirous of holding hotel licenses to take better houses, one-half of the hotel fee to be paid under these rules will be remitted in every case in which the accommodation is not less in any respect than that specified in rules (I) and (III) as required for a hotel of the first class.

IX.—"Bar" licenses may be granted for the sale of liquors at theatres or other places of public resort and entertainment on payment of a fee of Rs. 3 a day, or Rs. 50 a month for each "bar," provided that the holder of such a license will not be permitted to sell liquors except during the hours of public performances and rehearsals.

X.—The Superintendent of Excise Revenue may, with the previous sanction of the Board of Revenue, grant licenses for bonâ fide "restaurants" of superior description, in which no bed-room accommodation is provided. In all other respects a restaurant shall be regarded as a hotel, and fees shall be paid as in the case of a first class hotel: provided that in a restaurant no "bar" may be set up or maintained, nor may the holder of a restaurant license be granted a "late-closing license."

XI.—The Superintendent of Excise Revenue will, subject to the order of the Board of Revenue, decide in each case whether a part of a house or a place set apart for that purpose may be considered to be a "bar" or "restaurant."

XII.—The bar and restaurant licenses will cover the sale of liquor in the room or rooms specified in the license only, and the Commissioner of Police and Superintendent of Excise Revenue, respectively, may decline to grant police certificate and bar or restaurant licenses to any holder of a hotel license.

XIII.—The Superintendent of Excise Revenue is not bound to grant any license merely because the house described complies with the conditions, or that a police certificate has been obtained.

XIV.—Separate police certificates must be obtained for each separate class of license, except in the case of a holder of a hotel license applying for a restaurant, no license being granted without police certificates being previously obtained.

Licenses.

2. Collectors are authorized under section 7, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, to grant licenses in Form 23 (old No. 7) in Appendix A for the construction and working of distilleries in the English method, within the limits of their respective districts, if at a distance of not less than twenty miles from Calcutta. Collectors are to grant receipts for deposits on account of licenses in Form 24 (old No. 8) in Appendix A. The Excise Superintendent of Calcutta will grant licenses for all such distilleries within twenty miles of Calcutta.

Deposit.

3. Applicants for licenses to work distilleries in the English method may, if it be thought necessary, be called upon to deposit as security a sum not exceeding Rs. 1,000, the whole of which, or such portion of it as the Government, on the recommendation of the Board of Revenue, may determine, will be liable to forfeiture in the event of any breach of the excise law being proved before the officers vested by law with the decision of excise cases. In that case the license will of course be forfeited also. On the license ceasing without forfeiture, the sum deposited will be returned by the Collector.

May be appropriated for dues.

4. The above deposit, or any part of it, will further be at the Collector's disposal for the due discharge of all payments, whether of revenue, license charges, fines or forfeitures to which the distiller may be liable by law, by these rules, by the conditions of his license, or by any engagement or bond into which he may have entered with the Collector. It shall be incumbent on the distiller to make up any part of the deposit expended by the Collector as aforesaid, when called upon to do so. Failure to comply with the Collector's order requiring him to do this will entail the immediate cancelment of the license.

Works and premises, &c., to be pledged.

5. The distiller shall also execute a bond in Form 25 (old No. 9) in Appendix A, pledging his premises, his works, and all utensils employed in the manufacture, for the due discharge of the above-mentioned payments. Distilleries to be secured.

6. No distillery shall be licensed until the party applying for the license shall have satisfied the Collector that the distillery buildings and premises are surrounded by a wall with only one entrance, so that no spirit can pass out without the cognizance of the excise officer in charge, and are so constructed as to afford full security for the Government revenue. Collectors are empowered to refuse a license for a distillery without assigning any reason for so doing, except to the superior Revenue authorities, in the event of an appeal from their decision.

Excise establishment payable by distiller.

7. On a distillery being licensed, the Commissioner of Excise will sanction the employment of a preventive establishment on a sufficient scale, to guard it and render illicit practices impracticable, as they may think necessary in each case. Residence for Excise Officer.

8. A person licensed to work a distillery must provide a suitable residence for the excise officer and peons stationed on the premises, within the wall of the distillery enclosure; the residence must be so situated as to command the entrance to the premises. Rules for gauging are given in clause 11 of section IX.

Statement to be furnished to Collector.

15. A person licensed to work a distillery shall, within five days after receiving the license, furnish to the Collector a correct statement of the distillery premises, specifying every warehouse, store-room, and other place appertaining thereto, to be used for carrying on the business of the distillery, and all stills, coppers, casks, and other vessels to be so used. 20. The Supervisor shall on his visit to a distillery examine the diary kept by the officer in charge, and countersign it if it is correct, and he shall test some of the casks, and take such other measures as he may think necessary to satisfy himself that the arrangements for the prevention of illicit manufacture or issue of spirits are efficient. The Supervisor will submit a copy of his inspection report to his immediate superior, and not later than on the day following the day on which the inspection is made.

21. No spirits shall be conveyed from the store-rooms, warehouses, or other places used for keeping the produce of a licensed distillery, or from the distillery, without a pass issued by the Collector or other authorised Excise Officer, under section 18, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878 in Form 27 (old No. 10) in Appendix A, nor without payment of duty or execution of a bond for such duty. 22. Passes are printed in duplicate in cheque form and bound up in sets of a hundred: one part is given to the person removing the spirit, and the counterfoil remains for record and reference in the Collectorate. The pages will be numbered in print severally. The counterfoils which remain in the office obviate the necessity of a separate register of passes being kept. The passes should be returned by the distiller to the Collector as soon as possible after their period of currency has expired; and the date of their return will be noted on the pass. The period for which each pass is current is to be entered in the pass and counterfoil.

Passes to be in form of cheque-books.

*B. C. O., 7 of August 1889.

23. *Except under special orders of the Commissioner of Excise, the excise officers must in no way interfere to regulate the strength of spirit distilled. *Where no such orders have been issued, spirit may be made and passed out of the distillery as strong or as weak as the distiller chooses. 24. Distillers must keep a regular account of their distillation, showing the quantity manufactured daily (in gross imperial gallons), the quantity passed out and the quantity in store.

Distillers to keep an account.

25. The spirit distilled each day shall be tested with the hydrometer, measured and recorded separately from the distillations of other days. Care should be taken to allow the spirit to cool before it is tested, and unless the Collector's written sanction is previously obtained, each day's distillation must be stored separately from the distillation of other days. The quantity, temperature, strength, and duty chargeable shall be recorded on a ticket signed by the excise officer in charge or his mohurir, who tests and measures the spirit, and this ticket shall be affixed to the vessel in which the spirit is stored. Whenever spirit is taken out of the vessel, the quantity taken out must be noted on the ticket.

Spirit to be tested.

26. The stores of spirit and the accounts belonging to the distiller are to be open at all times to the inspection and examination of the officer in charge of the distillery, of the Commissioner of Excise and of the Collector, and of any officer employed by the Collector or the Commissioner of Excise for that purpose.

29. The forms for the above account are bound up in books, which are issued by the Collector as required, to the officers in charge of distilleries. Before issue each page should be numbered and each leaf attested by the initials, clearly written, of the officer in charge of excise, and the last page of each book should specify the total number of pages contained in it, also in the handwriting of the same officer. SECTION VIII.—RULES APPLICABLE TO THE FIXED DUTY SYSTEM ONLY.

1. Duty is not to be exhibited in the accounts and returns of a district, if it has been paid in another district, merely because the article (rum, e.g.) upon which it is paid has been consumed in the district; such duty should be credited at once in the district in which it is paid, and shown, by a separate red-ink entry, in the returns of that district. the Collector of Excise Revenue and the distillery invoice. The spirit is then gauged for quantity, and proved to ascertain the strength by a Custom-house Officer. If the quantity and strength so ascertained be the same as that marked on the casks (the casks being the same which were removed from the distillery), the spirit is allowed to pass for export by sea, and the quantity is written-off on the bond. If the quantity and strength be not the same as that marked on the casks, duty is levied on the difference, as provided by section 147, Act VIII of 1878.

Mode of gauging.

11. The following rules should be observed for gauging casks lying with the bung-rod, whether the spirit be required for exportation or for local consumption. Government officers must, however, bear in mind that the results obtained from simple measurement by the bung-rod are only approximate. Other instruments and professional skill are needed to ascertain the exact contents of a cask [N.B.—The bung-rod has four sides; of these two opposite sides are marked in inches and tenths for taking diameters; a third is marked in imperial gallons for taking the "capacity" according to the diagonal line; the fourth relates only to the calculation of superficial circular gallons and is not ordinarily used]:—

(1) Take care that the cask is laid perfectly horizontal with the bung exactly at the top.

(2) Measure by the side of the rod showing imperial gallons from the centre of the inside of the bung-stave to the lower chunt (i.e. where the head fits into the staves) at each end of the cask. The mean between the measurements so ascertained is the "capacity" of the cask.

(3) Measure by the side of the rod marked in inches the diameter from the inside of the bung-stave to the stave directly below it at the bottom. This gives the "bung diameter."

(4) Measure by the same side of the rod the depth in inches of liquor in the cask. This gives the "wet inches."

(5) Turn to the page of the Ullage tables* which is headed with the ascertained "capacity," look along the top for the column corresponding to the "bung diameter," and under this opposite the "wet inches" (shown in the left hand column) will be found the "ullage" or liquid contents of the cask.

* The tables referred to are a reprint from the "Imperial Ullager," and can be had on application to the Commissioner of Excise.

Cancelment of bond.

12. When the entire bonded quantity is written off upon the bond, the Chief Customs Officer should cancel the bond.

Entry of exports on bond.

13. It is for the exporter to see that the exports made from time to time under a bond are properly written off, or certified on the bond; and he must testify, by his signature to the entries, that the exports are correctly written-off.

Recovery of duty due under bonds.

14. If, at the expiration of the period named in the bond and in section 144, Act VIII of 1878, the entire quantity of spirit covered by the bond has not been accounted for as required in that Act, and written off as provided in the preceding clause, the Chief Customs Officer will proceed to recover the duty due upon the quantity of spirit which may not have been so accounted for unless the currency of the bond shall have been renewed.

Renewal of bonds.

15. Time-expired bonds may be renewed at the discretion of the Chief Customs Officer for a further period not exceeding four months from the date of the expiration of the first currency. On the expiration of the second currency, the Chief Customs Officer will proceed to adjust such time-expired bonds and levy duty on the quantity of spirit unaccounted for.

Ullage and leakage on land journey;

16. A maximum allowance, according to the following scale, is made on account of ullage and leakage on spirit removed under bond, from a distillery in the interior, for exportation by sea, and on spirit imported from the Madras Presidency into Orissa:—

For a distance not exceeding 100 miles ...	5	per centum.
For a distance above 100 miles, but not exceeding 200 miles	$7\frac{1}{2}$
For all distances exceeding 200 miles ...	10

and on sea voyage.

17. In the case of spirit exported under bond to another port within British India (not being a free port), in adjusting the bond, an allowance for wastage and leakage during the sea voyage is made, for a voyage of one month, at the rate of two per cent, and for any longer voyage, at three and a half per cent.

Spirit for ship's stores.

18. Spirit for use as ship's stores during the voyage may be shipped, free of duty, on vessels clearing to ports not within the interport system of British India. Passes for such spirit are, however, detained at the Custom-house until the vessel for the use of which it is intended is actually under clearance, when they are made over to the shipper's servants. Such shipments must be made under bonds, to be cancelled on production of a certificate from the Preventive Officer on the ship that no portion of the spirits covered by the bond has been consumed in port. The bond is in the Form C prescribed by section 144, Act VIII of 1878, mutatis mutandis.

Manufacture of sugar and molasses.

19. An application for a license to use rum, duty free, in the manufacture of sugar and molasses, must be made to the Collector of the district in which the factory for which the license is required is situate, or, if within twenty miles of Calcutta, to the Collector of Calcutta. The license shall be in the annexed Form 34 (old No. 11) in Appendix A, mutat mutandis.

Procedure.

20. A person licensed to use rum, duty free, for the above purpose, is permitted to remove it, under pass, from a licensed distillery to his factory, on entering into a bond to pay duty, at the rate in force, on any portion of the rum

15A. If it appears at the time of clearing such spirit that a deficiency has taken place in the quantity or quality during storage, the spirit shall, on the application of the importers, owners or agents, be regauged and retested, and the following allowances made:—

	Per cent.
For any time not exceeding one month ...	1
Ditto exceeding one month and not exceeding three months	2
For any time exceeding three months and not exceeding six months	3
For any time exceeding six months and not exceeding 12 months	4

That portion of the above-cited rules which provides for the importation of duty-paid spirit into the said territories is hereby cancelled. No spirit shall be removed from the place appointed under number 7 of the rules for its reception, storage, and examination, except under a pass signed by the Collector or other officer duly authorized by the Commissioner of Excise, and until full duty of excise has been paid at such rate as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time fix in respect of rum manufactured within the territories subject to the said Lieutenant-Governor. It will always be competent to the Commissioner of Excise, subject to the approval of the Board of Revenue, to permit the removal of non-duty paid spirit from one warehouse to another under bond. 22. The currency of the bond may be renewed at the discretion of the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner of Excise, for a further term not exceeding six months. At the expiration of this further term, the Collector must proceed to adjust the time-expired bond, and levy the duty on the quantity of rum deficient or unconsumed.

Preventive establishment.

23. An establishment, consisting of a Sub-Inspector and two chuprassees, is maintained by Government at each sugar factory, where permission is given to use rum duty free; and the cost of the same, amounting, as shown in the margin, to Rs. 34 per month, must be borne by the factory, and paid regularly to the Collector.

of spirit contained in each cask or other vessel, and whether full duty has been levied or the liquor has been cleared without prepayment of duty.

Conditions of importation.

Except as provided in clause 3, every person removing spirits from Shajehanpore for exportation into the Lower Provinces must execute a bond (Forms No. 32 and 33, Appendix A), binding himself and his heirs, successors, and assigns to produce to the Collector of Shajehanpore, within a reasonable time (to be fixed by the Collector of that district), a certificate signed by the Collector of the importing district of the due arrival of the spirit at its destination, or to pay the Collector of Shajehanpore a sum equal, in the case of liquor removed without payment of duty, to double the amount of duty chargeable thereon, and in the case of liquor removed after payment of duty, to the amount of duty already so paid. The bond will also provide for the payment of penalty duty at the above rates on any deficiency in volume or strength on the arrival of the liquor at its destination in excess of 5 per cent., i.e., of double duty on such excess deficiency in the case of spirit removed without prepayment of duty, and of single duty on the excess deficiency in the case of spirit removed from Shajehanpore after payment of duty.

Certificate in case of delay.

6. Should any delay arise in granting the certificate at the place of destination, which in the opinion of the Collector of that place would be a good and sufficient reason for extending the currency of the bond, he shall grant a certificate to that effect, and the Collector of Shajehanpore, on receipt thereof, may grant the certified necessary extension.

The Collector, or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, on sanctioning the removal of spirit under Rule 2, shall issue a license in Form 34 in Appendix A, authorizing a person to remove spirit rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, under the following rules, from a distillery or from the Custom House, on payment of the reduced duty of 5 per cent. ad valorem.

Ingredient to be used.

5. Whenever country spirit is to be rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, the ingredient to be used for admixture with the spirit shall be caoutchoucine, which shall be mixed with the spirit in the proportion of 1 part of volume of the caoutchoucine to 99 parts of volume of the spirit, which shall not be of less strength than 30 per cent. overproof.

Test by Chemical Examiner.

6. The ingredient to be used for admixture with the spirit must be tested by the Chemical Examiner to Government, who must certify to the Collector, or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, that it will effectually and permanently render unpalatable and unfit for human consumption the spirit with which it is mixed.

Valuation.

7. For the purpose of fixing the amount of duty to be levied on such spirit, its market value is fixed by the Collector, or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, subject to the revision of the Commissioner of Excise.

Expense.

8. Any expense which may be incurred by the Collector, or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, in rendering spirit unfit for human consumption, or for ascertaining by chemical or other process that it has been effectually and permanently so rendered, must be paid by the person wishing to remove the spirit before its removal is allowed.

Certificate of Chemical Examiner.

9. Spirit imported by sea, rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, will be dealt with by the Collector of Sea Customs. Spirit manufactured in any other Province and imported into Bengal, shall pay full duty, unless the Chemical Examiner to Government shall have certified, on a sample sent to him, that the spirit has been rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption in accordance with Rule 5 above, or in some other equally efficacious manner. The use of wood-naphtha shall not be held to render spirit effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption.

5. In the case of duty-paid spirit, if the excise duty at the port of exportation is lower than the duty chargeable in Calcutta, the differential duty under section 151 of the Sea Customs Act will be levied by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue at such rate as the Local Government may from time to time, by notification in the local gazette, fix.

Differential duty and its levy.

6. Passes for the removal of the spirit from the excise godown will be issued by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue in accordance with section 18 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1878.

Passes to be issued by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue.

7. All charges incurred in the landing and removal of the spirit must be paid by the importer, owner, or agent to the Collector of Customs, failing which the amount will be levied by him under section 119 of the Sea Customs Act, and no portion of the spirit shall be removed from the excise godown until a "no-demand certificate" has been received by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue from the Collector of Customs.

Landing charges to be paid by the importer.

8. All charges on account of rent, cooperage, storing, removing, &c., incurred after such spirit has been received into the excise godown, must be paid by the importer, owner, or agent, as the case may be, to the Superintendent of Excise Revenue before the spirit is removed from the excise godown, at such rates as may, from time to time, be fixed by the Board of Revenue.

Charges on account of rent, &c., to be paid by the importer.

9. *After the fourth day, rent shall be charged on the spirit stored in the excise godown at the rate of 3 annas per day per pipe or puncheon; 3 annas per day for every 100 Imperial gallons when imported in drums, bottles or other vessels; 1½ anna per day per hogshead; and 1 anna per day per quarter cask. In cases where the importers, owners or agents do not make their own arrangements for cooperage, storage, and removal of the spirit, the charges shall be—for cooperage, 8 annas per cask, and for storage and removal, if imported in casks, one anna per cask, and if imported in drums, cases or other vessels, half an anna per package.

Rent how to be charged.

SECTION XII.—SPIRIT FOR USE IN ARTS, MANUFACTURES, AND CHEMISTRY.

1. An application for a license to use spirit exclusively for purposes of art, manufacture, or chemistry, on a payment of an ad valorem duty of 5 per cent., under Act XI of 1882, must be made to the Collector of the district, or to the Collector of Excise Revenue of Calcutta, if the spirit is to be taken from a distillery within twenty miles of Calcutta, or from the Custom-house, or is to be used in his jurisdiction.

Application where to be made.

2. The Collector may authorize the persons to whom he has given such a license to use spirit, for the aforesaid purposes, within the walls of the licensed distillery in which it was manufactured, after payment of the reduced duty of 5 per cent. ad valorem. In this case, the use of the spirit will be under the supervision of the same excise establishment as the manufacturing operations of the distillery.

or removed under bond for use elsewhere.

3. The Collector may issue a license in Form 34 (old No. 11) in Appendix A, authorizing a person to remove spirit from a distillery or from the Custom-house, to be used exclusively for the aforesaid purposes, on payment of the reduced duty of 5 per cent. ad valorem; provided that the Collector be satisfied that such spirit has been effectually and permanently rendered unfit for human consumption by the admixture of caoutchoucine, or in special cases, as mentioned below, of woodnaptha.

Ingredients to be used.

4. Whenever country spirit is to be rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, the ingredient to be used for admixture with the spirit shall be caoutchoucine, which shall be mixed with the spirit in the proportion of one* part of volume of the caoutchoucine to 99* parts of volume of the spirit, which shall not be of less strength than 30 per cent. over proof. Under the Board's sanction in each instance, woodnaptha can be used instead of caoutchoucine in special cases, where the latter ingredient would damage the spirit so as to make it unsuitable for the purpose intended. In such cases, one part by volume of crude woodnaptha shall be mixed with nine parts by volume of spirit of not less strength than 30 per cent. over proof, e.g., 100 gallons of methylated spirit should contain 90 gallons of spirit and 10 gallons of woodnaptha.

8. Without the sanction of the Board, which may be granted on special application made by the person or firm concerned, no greater quantity than 100 gallons of spirit may be passed out at a time to one person or firm, for use in arts, manufactures, or chemistry.

License may be refused.

9. The Collector may refuse to grant a license, without assigning any reason, except to the superior revenue authorities in case of appeal.

Conditions of license.

10. The license to use spirit for the purposes aforesaid contains a condition that the spirit shall be used on certain specified premises only, and that those premises shall be open to the entry and inspection of Excise Officers at any time of the day or night.

The use of wood-naphtha shall not be held to render spirit effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption.

License for sale.

10. A license in Form No. 34A, is required for the sale of spirit rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption. Such license shall be granted, free of cost, by the Collector of the district, or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue.

Methylated spirit not to be used in the manufacture of tinctures, medicated spirits, &c.

License for sale.

SECTION XIII.—COUNTRY SPIRITS.

Fixed Duty System.

1. Country spirit is any spirit made by the native process of distillation. The spirit is distilled from the mowah flower, from molasses taken from the sugarcane or date-palm, from rice, or from a combination of these substances; and in some districts there is added a small quantity of bakhur, a compound prepared from the roots and leaves of several plants of which the components are unknown, but which are proved by chemical analysis to be innocuous.

Definition.

2. The manufacture may be carried on under the fixed duty or distillery system, or under the outstill system.

Manufacture.

3. On the fixed duty system, country spirit may be distilled under a license from the Collector, either in a private or public distillery; but in no case is a license to be granted for the distillation of country spirit in a private distillery without the sanction of the Commissioner of Excise previously obtained.

Distillation, private or public.

4. The rules given in Sections VI and IX for the manufacture, store, and removal of spirit distilled in the English method in private distilleries, are applicable, mutatis mutandis, to all spirit manufactured in the native mode.

Private licensed distilleries.

5. Public central distilleries are established, under section 9, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, at convenient places in each district. Limits are defined for each distillery, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette in Form 35* given in Appendix A, within which no country spirits, except such as are manufactured at such distillery, shall be introduced or sold without a special pass from the Collector, and within which no stills shall be constructed or worked, or spirits manufactured, except at the said distillery.

Public distilleries.

* B. C. O., 4 of March 1885.

6. Whenever it is proposed to establish a new public distillery, the following information must be submitted to the Board of Revenue, through the Commissioner of Excise:—

Form of application.

(1) Proposed locality of the distillery.
(2) Approximate area in square miles to be supplied from the distillery.

(3) Longest distance from the distillery of any point which is expected to be supplied from the distillery.
(4) Proposed rate of duty per gallon, London-proof, to be levied on the spirit distilled.
(5) Probable rate of license fee per month for each retail shop supplied from the distillery.
(6) Proposed rate of distillery fee per gross gallon.
(7) Number of stills which the proposed distillery will accommodate.
(8) Number of stills expected to be set up and ordinarily at work in the distillery.
(9) Rough estimate of cost of constructing the distillery, showing whether it is to be constructed by the Public Works Department or by the local revenue authorities.
(10) Estimated annual cost of repairs to distillery buildings.
(11) Estimated annual ground rent of the distillery.
(12) Estimated cost of distillery establishment per month.
(13) Amount of duty which may be expected from the distillery per month.
(14) Amount of revenue expected monthly from license fees of retail shops supplied by the distillery.
(15) Remarks.

Buildings.

7. Public distilleries are constructed at the expense of Government. They are to be surrounded by a wall with only one entrance, so that no spirit can pass out without the cognizance of the Excise Officer in charge.

Construction.

8. As to the construction of central distilleries, &c., see section I relating to "Public Buildings and Lands" in Chapter V, headed "Miscellaneous" on page 79 of the "Board's Rules, 1888."

Rent.

9. The Board is competent to sanction, as an ordinary contingent charge, the payment of the rent of public distillery premises, and of ground-rent for the site of such distilleries, and for cutcherry and all other excise buildings, and one rupee per mensem per distillery for country stationery.

Mode of working.

10. In a public distillery the manufacture of spirit is carried on by licensed distillers at their own cost and risk. Every distiller is bound to keep the premises where his still is worked clean and in good order, subject to the directions of the officer in charge.

Form of license.

11. A person wishing to set up a still in a public distillery must apply to the Collector for a license, which is given in Form 36 (old No. 15,) in Appendix A.

No monopoly.

12. A licensed distiller may set up any number of stills in a public distillery, subject to such restrictions as the Collector may find it necessary to impose with reference to the accommodation available. No monopoly of distillation is allowed. If the full number of stills which distillers wish to work cannot be accommodated on the premises, the Collector must distribute the space fairly among all the applicants.

10. A license in Form No. 34A is required for the sale of spirit rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption Such license shall be granted, free of cost, by the Collector of the district, or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue.

License for sale.

10A. No person shall possess a larger quantity of spirit rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption than two imperial gallons or twelve reputed quart bottles without a license or pass from the Collector or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue.

Limit of possession.

11. The unauthorized use or possession or sale of spirit, rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, shall subject the offender to the penalties provided in the Excise Act. 7-1-1901.

Penalties for unauthorized use or possession.

10 ✓ "And generally to obey the orders of the Superintendent, subject to appeal to the Collector of the district." 9-4-92.

22. The size and capacity of every still is to be recorded and marked on it and the distiller must give to the officer in charge an inventory of all the apparatus he may take into use. The* officer in charge of a sudder distillery is to keep up a register in Form 37 (old No. 15A), Appendix A, of the stills worked in a sudder distillery, a register in Form 38 (old No. 15C) in Appendix A, of fermenting vessels, and a register in Form† 39 (old No. 15D), Appendix A, of spirits intended for redistillation.

Apparatus to be registered and marked.

* B. C. O., 1 of May 1886.

† B. C. O., 5 of September 1888.

23. Distillers must keep a regular account of their distillation, showing the quantity manufactured daily in gross imperial gallons, the quantity passed out, and the quantity in store. The spirit distilled each day‡ is to be stored in glass‡ or porcelain jars or wooden casks, and shall be tested with the hydrometer, measured and stored separately from the distillations of other days when the strength differs; but§ spirits of the same strength, though distilled on different days, may be put in the same vessel. Care should be taken to allow the spirit to cool before it is tested. The quantity, temperature, strength, and duty chargeable shall be recorded on a ticket signed by the officer‖ in charge of the distillery who tests and measures the spirit, and this ticket shall be affixed to the vessel in which the spirit is stored. Whenever spirit is taken out of the vessel, the quantity taken out must be noted on the ticket. When¶ the liquor is redistilled, the distillery officer should see that the whole outturn of the first distillation is put into the still; but if, the redistillation does not take place on the same day, the total quantity should be noted on a ticket to be attached to the vessel in which it is kept. The liquor produced by redistillation is to be measured and tested, and the quantity and strength of the liquor kept in each vessel is to be noted on a ticket to be attached to it.

24. The stores of spirit, and the accounts belonging to each distiller, are to be open at all times to the inspection and examination of the officer in charge of the distillery and of the Collector, and of any officer employed by the Collector for that purpose.

Stores, &c., open to inspection.

25. Wort prepared for distillation is on no account to be allowed to leave a distillery.

Wort not to pass out.

26. The still and apparatus of a distiller permanently ceasing to manufacture, must, within five days of closure, be removed from the distillery premises, unless transferred, on application, to another licensed distiller. If not removed or transferred within that time, rent is to be charged as on a working still, and, if not removed after ten days' notice for its removal has been given, the still will be confiscated.

Disposal of still on cessation of license.

27. No spirit is to be removed from a distillery or its store-rooms unless it is protected by a pass from the officer in charge, which is to be shown at the gate to the peon on duty at the gate of the distillery.

No issues without pass.

The account shall be balanced every time there is a transaction, and a daily balance sheet submitted to the Excise Deputy Collector. The Distillery Superintendent shall take care to issue liquor only up to the limit of the credit of each vendor. On every weekly visit, the Excise Deputy Collector, or Subdivisional Officer, shall certify that every issue to a retail vendor since his last visit has been entered in the ledger.

Passes to be in form of cheque-books.

30. Passes are printed, in triplicate* in cheque form, and bound up in sets of a hundred: one part* is given to the person removing the spirit, one part is sent to the Collector, and the counterfoil remains for record and reference. The pass books are issued by the Collector to the officer in charge of each distillery. The pages must be numbered before they leave the Collector's office. Passes are in Form 43 (old No. 16), Appendix A; the counterfoils, which remain in the office, obviate the necessity of a separate register of passes being kept. The passes should be returned to the officer in charge of the distillery as soon as possible after their period of currency has expired, and the date of their return will be noted on the pass. The period for which each pass is current is to be entered in the pass and counterfoil. †Failure to return pass within the time allowed shall be punishable under section 59 of the Excise Act.

Officers not to interfere with strength.

31. *Except under the special orders of the Commissioner of Excise, the Excise Officers must in no way interfere to regulate the strength of the spirit distilled. Where no such orders have been issued, spirit may be made, and passed out of the distillery, as strong, or as weak as the distiller chooses. The duty is levied at the prescribed rate according to the strength of the spirit as ascertained by the hydrometer. But¶ Excise Officers have the right, and are required, to interfere with any method of distillation which is calculated to produce unwholesome spirit, and are to prevent the preparation of wash or wort with noxious materials.

* B. C. O., 7 of August 1889.

¶ B. C. O., 3 of November 1886.

Saccharine matter not to be introduced after distillation.

32. In using the hydrometer, special care should be taken that no saccharine matter is introduced into the liquor after it has been drawn from the still, and before it is tested. The effect of the addition of sugar or other soluble matter to spirit is to heighten the specific gravity of the spirit and to cause it to indicate, when tested by the hydrometer, a lower strength than the actual strength, thereby entailing loss of revenue.

Supply of measures and hydrometers.

33. Indents for standard measures are to be made, through the Commissioner of Excise, upon the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, Calcutta. Indents for hydrometers and thermometers are to be made direct upon the Commissioner of Excise. The address to which, and the mode by which, the instruments are to be sent, are to be always fully stated in all such indents, and the orders of the Commissioner of Excise under which an instrument was last supplied to the public distillery should also be specified. The* hydrometer should be kept under the personal custody of the officer in charge of the distillery, and should on no account be made over to distillers or other persons.

* B. C. O., 10 of April 1886.

34. The Collector should constantly ascertain that the subordinate Excise Officers thoroughly understand the use of the hydrometer. The† instrument should be used and washed by the officer in charge of the distillery. Care should be taken that any portion of the weight put into the bulb is not abstracted with the view of causing the instrument to indicate a lower strength. The Commissioner of Excise supplies tables in English, which show the exact duty to be levied upon an imperial gallon of spirit at any strength that may be indicated by the hydrometer.

Use of hydrometers.

† B. C. O., 10 of April 1886.

35. There is a table for each of the eleven following standards :—

Board's tables.

	Rs.	A.
1. When the duty upon an imperial gallon at London-proof is	5	0
2. When it is	4	6
3. When it is	4	0
4. When it is	3	12
5. When it is	3	2
6. When it is	3	0
7. When it is	2	8
8. When it is	2	0
9. When it is	1	14
10. When it is	1	9
11. When it is	1	8

The standard of duty in a district is always fixed at one or other of these rates. The duty to be charged will be the duty entered in the table opposite to the strength indicated by the hydrometer.

* B. C. O, 10 of April 1886.

36. *With these tables before him, it is only necessary for the Excise Officer, firstly, to stir the spirits thoroughly, so as to be sure that the thermometer indicates the true temperature: the thermometer should be allowed to remain in the spirit for about five minutes, and then taken out; secondly, he should use and read the hydrometer correctly. The hydrometer should be thoroughly immersed, and then allowed to rise till it is at rest.

How to use tables.

* B. C. O., 10 of April 1886.

37. *Brass hydrometers are liable to be thrown out of adjustment by the action of the acids in the spirit upon the metal of which the instruments are made. In order to retard this deterioration to the utmost, the hydrometers, after use, should be well washed with an abundant supply of water, and then lightly dried with a soft cloth before being replaced in its box. Glass hydrometers, though they are not subject to the action of acids, should be similarly treated after use.

Deterioration of hydrometers.

* B. C. O., 10 of April 1886.

38. *A hydrometer thoroughly out of adjustment is useless, and must be rejected summarily. When there is any variation between the distillery hydrometer and the standard hydrometer, the officer in charge of Spoilt hydrometers to be rejected.

Spirit rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, generally known as methylated spirit.

Spirit rendered unfit for human consumption, an exciseable article.

2. An application for a license to remove spirit, rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, on payment of an ad valorem duty of 5 per cent., must be made to the Collector of the district, or to the Superintendent of Excise Revenue of Calcutta, if the spirit is to be taken from a distillery within 20 miles of Calcutta, or from the Custom House, or is to be used in his jurisdiction.

Application where to be made.

3. The Collector, or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, may also authorize the use of spirit, so rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, within the walls of the licensed distillery in which it was manufactured, after payment of the reduced duty of 5 per cent. ad valorem. In this case, the use of the spirit will be under the supervision of the same excise establishment as the manufacturing operations of the distillery.

The rate of this fee is at present fixed at 2½ annas per London-proof gallon in all the districts in the Lower Provinces except those noted in the margin, where the fee shall be one anna per gross gallon. The aggregate of distillery fees is intended to meet the expenses of keeping up the distillery buildings, the salaries of the special distillery establishments, and the contingent expenses of the distilleries. the distillery should apply the necessary correction when calculating the duty. But when the variation becomes excessive, the defective instrument should be withdrawn and a new one supplied in its place.

Excise Deputy Collector to be provided with a standard hydrometer.

39. In order to test the correctness of the instruments in constant use, the Deputy Collector, who manages the department under the Collector, is to be provided with a standard hydrometer, which he must be very careful to preserve in adjustment, by using it only when necessary, and by never using it without carefully dipping it in water and drying it. It is of the utmost importance that the instruments in constant use at distilleries should be tested not less frequently than once every two months.

Spirits to be tested at a temperature of 80°.

40. *Spirits must be tested at a temperature of 80°. Hydrometers are adjusted to 80°, and cannot be relied on to register correctly at any other temperature. The test with the standard should invariably be carried on at that temperature to ensure a correct comparison. In places where there is no standard hydrometer, and where its accuracy is doubted, the correctness or otherwise may be roughly ascertained by dipping it in distilled water, or in its absence in filtered water, where it will float at W if correct; if otherwise, below or above it.

Distillery fee.

43. In addition to the prescribed duty per imperial gallon, a fee is levied monthly from the distillers on each gallon of liquor distilled, without reference to its strength, as payment for the use of the distillery premises. When* spirits are redistilled, the distillery fee shall be levied on the produce of both the first and second distillation. The rate of this fee is fixed by the Board of Revenue† at a uniform fee of one anna per gallon for all distilleries, that the aggregate of distillery fees may cover the expenses of keeping up the distillery buildings, the salaries of the special distillery establishments, and the contingent expenses of the distilleries. These distillery fees, however, are credited to the General Excise Revenue.

Accounts and statements to be kept by officer in charge of a distillery.

44. The following accounts and statements are to be kept by the officer in charge of a distillery in the forms given in Appendix A:—

Daily account of quantity of spirit manufactured, cleared, and remaining in the store of each distiller (Form 44—old No. 17); a separate account for each distiller.

Daily abstract of total quantity of spirit manufactured, cleared, and remaining in store, and of duty paid in the distillery (Form 45—old No. 18).

Daily account of spirit passed out to each licensed retail shop, with amount of duty paid; a separate account for each shop (Form 46—old No. 19).

Register of licensed retail shops ordinarily drawing their supplies from the distillers, with dates of payment of monthly license fees (Form 47—old No. 20). *This register need not be kept in distilleries where the officers in charge do not issue passes.

* B. C. O., 8 of August 1890.

Daily account of receipts and disbursements (Form 48—old No. 21).

†Diary (Form 49).

† B. C. O., 4 of January 1889.

45. The forms for the above account sand statements are bound up in books, which are issued as required to the officers in charge of distilleries. Before issue, each page should be numbered, and each leaf attested by the initials clearly written of the officer in charge of excise, and the last page of each book should specify the total number of pages contained in it, also in the handwriting of the same officer. The entries in the registers shall be continued from one year to another until the volume is completed. The officer in charge of distillery should sign each page after completing the entries in it.

Forms of accounts bound up in books.

46. Whenever a Collector, Assistant or Deputy Collector or Sub-Deputy Collector, or Excise Inspector, visits and inspects a distillery, he must subscribe his initials and the date to the last entry in each of these books.

Attestation.

47. Copy of the daily account (Form 46 old No. 19) is to be submitted to the Collector on the following day without fail. The close daily scrutiny of these abstracts, and the calculations in them, is the main check which a Collector has on his distillery officers. Forms 45 (old No. 18) and 47 (old No. 20) must also be submitted to the Collector (see clause 44) for purpose of check—the former daily and the latter monthly.

Daily abstract.

48. The counterfoil of each pass (Form 43—old No. 16) granted under clause 30, as well as the pass itself, should be forwarded to the Collector, the former on the date of the issue of the pass, and the latter on the date of its return to the officer in charge of distillery after the expiration of its currency, and should be carefully checked and compared in the Collector's office with Forms 45 (old No. 18) and 46 (old No. 19). It is the duty of the officer in charge of excise to certify every month that he has satisfied himself that the above forms with the passes and counterfoils have been punctually submitted and subjected to a careful scrutiny.

Passes.

49. The following statements, given in Appendix A, must be submitted by the officer in charge of a distillery not later than the 2nd of the month succeeding that to which they relate:—

Returns to be submitted monthly.

Account of receipts and disbursements (Form 48—old No. 21). This should be tested in the Collector's office by comparison with the entries in Forms 45 (old No. 18) and 47 (old No. 20.)

Comparative statement of spirit cleared in the month under report, with the average quantity cleared monthly in the three preceding months (Form 50—old No. 22).

List of stills occupying the distillery during the month, and amount of distillery fees levied from them (Form 51—old No. 23).

Statement of demands, collections, and balances for the month (Form 52—old No. 24). This statement will be checked by Form 45

"The Collector is expected to visit the distillery at his own head-quarters at least once a month, and the Deputy Collector who superintends the Excise Department and each Subdivisional Officer are expected to do the same at least once a week. The outlying distilleries should in like manner be visited by the Collector or his staff as often as possible, but not less than once a month. The Special Excise Deputy Collector is to inspect the liquor depôts at subdivisional head-quarters on his periodical inspection of the subdivisional Excise office. A complete report of inspection is to be submitted by the Collector to the Commissioner of Excise in Form No. 53 in Appendix A by the 1st April of each year. The Excise Deputy Collector's and the Subdivisional Officer's reports will be due to the Collector at the close of their respective inspections." 6-6-99.

(old No. 18), and will check the cash account (Form 48—old No. 21). With proper management there should never be any balance outstanding at the end of the month. Full explanation should be given of any items which remain unrealized.

Duty of officer inspecting the distillery.

50. On each visit of inspection to the distillery, the officers named in clause 46 should personally ascertain that the amount shown in column 15, Form 48 (old No. 21), is actually in the distillery cash box.

Distinction of sorts.

51. When spirit is manufactured after the English method in a distillery, each class of spirit must be shown distinctly. Separate statements in Forms 45 (old No. 18), 46 (old No. 19), 47 (old No. 20), 48 (old No. 21,) and 51 (old No. 23 must be kept up, showing separately the spirit manufactured after the English method.

Inspection duties.

52. The Collector is expected to visit the distillery at his own head-quarters at least once a month, and the Deputy Collector, who superintends the Excise Department, and each Sub-divisional Officer, are expected to do the same at least once a week. The outlying distilleries should be in like manner visited by the Collector or his staff as often as possible, but not less than once a month. The Special Excise Deputy Collector is to inspect the liquor depôts at Sub-divisional Head-quarters on his periodical inspection of the Sub-divisional Excise Office. A complete report of inspection is to be submitted by the Collector to the Commissioner in the From No. 53 in Appendix A at the end of each ~~calendar~~ half-year. The reports will be due to him by the 1st July and 1st January of each year.

53. The efficiency of the sudder distillery system depends considerably on the closeness and vigour of the supervision to which the officer in charge of the distillery and the distillers and the vendors are subjected. Inspection should be regular and systematic, but it should be irregularly regular, so that the visit of the inspecting officer may not be expected and prepared for on a particular day or hour. An inspecting officer is required to test the strength and the quantities of spirits in store, to satisfy himself as to the knowledge of the officer in charge of distillery to use the hydrometer, to examine the cash balance, and to affix his initials in the distillery account books and registers. An endeavour should be made not to allow inspections to become a mere matter of form. The stock of each distiller should be inspected, and special attention should be given to the account Form 46 (old No. 19) showing the quantity of spirit passed out daily to each licensed shop, so that if the quantity passed is insufficient to support a particular shop honestly, the shop-keeper may be cautioned, or inquiry may be instituted to ascertain if he supplements the sales of his shop by the use of illicit liquor.

Inspection duties.

Copy of remarks of inspecting officer to be forwarded to the Collector.

54. A copy of the remarks made by the inspecting officer in the inspection-book should be submitted to the Collector of the district by each of his subordinates within 24 hours, and a copy of the Collector's remarks should similarly be forwarded by him to the Commissioner of Excise. Whenever the remarks of any other inspecting officer are of particular importance or interest, a copy should be forwarded for the information of the Commissioner of Excise.

Annual report.

55. The Collector should state in his annual report how often he has himself visited each distillery in the district, and how often they have been visited by the officers upon his staff.

SECTION XIV—DISTILLERY DEPÔTS.

Depôts.

1. Depôts or warehouses for the supply of liquor to places remote from the distilleries are established with the sanction of the Board of Revenue at convenient places (usually at the head-quarters of sub-divisions). Each depôt is supplied from the sadar distillery of the district in which it is situate, or from such other distillery as the Commissioner of Excise may, from time to time, prescribe.

Form of license.

2. The Collector may grant a license (in Form 55, Appendix A) free of cost to distillers or such other persons as he may think fit for the storage of liquor at depôts and its supply to licensed vendors. A person so licensed is called a "depôt licensee." It is advisable, in order to guard against monopolies, that there should be at least two depôt licensees at each depôt.* These licenses are to be entered in Register No. 7 (No. 49, "Board's Rules, 1888").

Retail vendors and their supply.

3. Retail vendors are at liberty to obtain their supplies either from the district distillery or from the depôt, if any, at the head-quarters of the sub-division in which their shops are situate; and it is also open to them to apply, through the Collector, for the permission of the Commissioner of Excise to take their supplies from any other distillery or depôt.

Liquor to be stored in casks.

4. The liquor is to be stored in water-tight wooden casks ~~of such sizes and capacities as may be fixed by the Collector~~, and conveyed to the depôt at the cost and on the responsibility of the distiller.

Transport of liquor on indent.

5. The officer in charge of the distillery is authorized to allow liquor to be transported to the depôts on the indent of the Excise Deputy Collector or Sub-divisional Officer.

Pass.

6. Every consignment is to be protected by a pass in the form (43—old No. 16) given in Appendix A, mutatis mutandis, granted by the officer in charge of the distillery, and containing the quantity and strength of the liquor and the other particulars specified in section 18 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1878.

* NOTE.—The Board attach great importance to distillers being given licenses as depôt licensees whenever they can be induced to take them. This will prevent the creation of middlemen between the distiller and the retailer.

Where special arrangements are made with the Railway authorities for the conveyance of liquor, and an entire truck or wagon is provided for the purpose, the escort guard shall remain in charge of the consignment until it is placed in the truck or wagon by the distiller, or depôt licensee, or his agent. The officer in charge of the escort guard will thereupon lock it securely with a Chubb's lock and key to be furnished by the Superintendent, and return the key to him.

The duplicate key of the lock will be kept by, or sent to, the Excise Deputy Collector of the district to which the consignment is made, if the depôt be situated at the district head-quarters; and to the Subdivisional Officer, if the depôt be situated at the head-quarters of a subdivision. 9-12-93.

Every cask must have a ticket securely attached to it, showing these particulars.

The mouth of cask to be sealed.

7. The mouth of every cask, besides being securely fastened, is to be sealed with the seal of the distillery officer and stamped, and the impressions must not be broken or tampered with on the road.

Pass where to be sent.

8. A copy of the pass is to be sent by post direct to the officer in charge of the depôt the day before the consignment leaves the distillery.

Escort guard.

9. Every consignment is to be placed in charge of a suitable escort guard to be furnished by the District Superintendent of Police, on the indent of the Excise Deputy Collector. When the distance to be travelled is not great, the departure of the consignment must be so timed as to ensure its arrival at the depôt before night-fall on the same day as it leaves the distillery. When a halt is made en route for the night, it must be done at such place or places as are prescribed by the Collector.

Sub-divisional Officer, Sub-Deputy Collector, or other officer duly empowered to examine the seals, measure and test the liquor.

10. On arrival at the depôt, the Sub-divisional Officer, Sub-Deputy Collector, or some other officer duly empowered in this behalf by the Collector in writing, is required, in the presence of the distiller or his agent, to examine the seals, measure and test the liquor in each vessel, and note the results in the prescribed registers after comparison with the entries in the ticket attached to it, as well as with those in the pass accompanying the consignment. He must at the same time return to the distillery officer the copy of the pass he may have received by post, after noting on it the results of his test and measurement. The measuring should be done with gauging rods or gallon measures.

Depôt store-room to be provided with Chubb's lock.

11. The depôt store-room is to be provided with Chubb's lock, the key of which shall remain in charge of the depôt clerk, the duplicate key remaining with the Sub-divisional Officer. But it will be competent to the Sub-divisional Officer to retain possession of both keys should he think fit to do so.

Contents of casks not to be mixed or watered down.

12. The contents of the different casks are not to be mixed or watered down or otherwise interfered with before being issued. Duty must be realised before issue, at the rate ascertained by the test at the distillery, and shown on the pass and ticket referred to in clause 6, in the manner shown in the following rule.

Payment of duty in the treasury before issue of the liquor.

13. A licensed vendor wishing to take out liquor must first pay into the sadar or sub-divisional treasury the duty, at the rate assessed at the distillery, on the quantity he requires. He will present the treasury receipt to the depôt clerk, who will forthwith prepare a pass for the quantity of liquor covered, at the above rate of duty, by the payment shown on the treasury receipt, and issue the liquor, entering the transaction at the same time in the registers prescribed by clause 16 below.

14. If the Sub-divisional Officer is at the time at the sub-divisional head-quarters, the treasury receipt, the pass, and the registers shall be laid before him for his initials before the liquor is issued, and he shall superintend its issue. If the Sub-divisional Officer is absent from head-quarters, the liquor shall be issued by the depôt clerk; and the above-mentioned documents and registers shall be laid before the Sub-divisional Officer for examination and his initials by the depôt clerk, immediately on his return. In this case it will be the duty of the Sub-divisional Officer to satisfy himself (by measuring and testing the liquor remaining in store) that the stock has not been tampered with.

Sub-divisional Officer to sign the treasury receipt, the pass, and the registers before issue of liquor, and to superintend the issue.

15. The Sub-divisional Officer may, with the permission in writing of the Collector, delegate any of his duties under the preceding rule to a Sub-Deputy Collector. It must, however, be understood that the Sub-divisional Officer's responsibility for the general observance of the rules and prevention of abuses will not be removed by such delegation of his authority.

Delegation of powers to a Sub-Deputy Collector by the Sub-divisional officer.

16. The depôt clerk is to keep the following registers and forms, subject to the alterations noted below:—

Registers to be kept.

No. 44 (old No. 17).—In column 2 for "number of stills worked" read "name of licensee"; in columns 5, 6, 7, for "distilled" read "received"; in column of remarks enter number of pass and number and date of treasury challan.

17. A retail vendor may remit in advance to the treasury or sub-treasury, as the case may be, lump sums from time to time on account of duty. A ledger account of each such vendor in the Form No. 56 in Appendix A is to be kept by the depôt clerk, showing the amounts paid by such vendor, the quantity of liquor taken out, and the duty leviable on it, and the balance left to his credit after deducting such duty. The account must be balanced every time there is a transaction, and a daily balance sheet submitted to the

The Collector of the district shall invariably inspect depôts when visiting the head-quarters of a subdivision, and shall submit a detailed report thereon, in form No. 139, Appendix A, to the Commissioner of Excise. The Excise Deputy Collector on the occasion of every visit, and the officer in charge of the subdivision at least once a quarter, shall submit a detailed report in the same form."

Excise Deputy Collector. The depôt officer shall take care to issue liquor only up to the limit of the credit of each vendor.

N.B.—This rule has been framed for the convenience of retail vendors, and it is optional with them to take advantage of it or not.

Distillery rules to apply to depôts.

18. The rules in force for the inspection and supervision of sadar distilleries shall apply as far as possible to depôts.

Working hours of depôts.

19. The working hours for the issue of liquor at a depôt will be the same as in a distillery, and the officer in charge shall not, during those hours, leave the depôt without the permission of his immediate superior.

SECTION XV.—RETAIL SALE OF COUNTRY SPIRIT UNDER THE FIXED DUTY SYSTEM.

Retail shops.

1. Spirit manufactured in a public distillery or stored in a depôt is supplied to the public through the medium of shops for retail.

License necessary.

2. No such shop may be opened without a license from the Collector, to whom application must be made. The license will be granted either under the auction system or the fixed license fee system, as the Board may generally or specially direct.

Supply of shops.

3. The supplies of such licensed shops must be drawn only from the public or private distillery or depôt specified in the pass.

4. An officer in charge of a distillery or depôt is not allowed to supply spirits to vendors whose shops are not authorized to draw their supplies from that distillery or depôt.

Distiller cannot retail without license.

5. If a licensed distiller desires to open a shop for retail vend, he must take out a separate license for that purpose. The functions of the distiller and the retailer must be kept perfectly distinct. A licensed distiller may not open a shop in the immediate vicinity of the distillery in which he distils.

Form.

6. The license given by the Collector for a shop for retail is in Form 30 (old No. 14), Appendix A.

Fee payable monthly in advance.

7. The license fee is payable in every instance according to the instalments mentioned in clause 23, Section III, viz., the fee for two months at the time of settlement, whether the license is granted under the auction system or the fixed license fee system, and one month's fee on the date on which the license commences, and one month's fee on the first of every succeeding month until the whole of the fee due on the license has been realised. Payments when made should be endorsed on the license which the licensee should produce for that purpose. The officer in charge of the distillery or depôt may refuse to pass out spirit to a shop for which any instalment of the fee has not been paid and payment endorsed on the license.

8. The license for retail vend authorizes the holder to retail all spirit manufactured in this country, whether by the European or the native process, but not imported spirit. When the license covers the sale of country spirits only, the preamble and the 11th condition of Form 30 (old No. 14) are to be modified accordingly.

License authorizes sale of all spirits in India.

9. There is no limit to the quantity of country spirit which each vendor may clear on payment of duty. On presentation of a vendor's license, bearing on it the endorsement duly attested by the signature of the officer receiving the money that the license fee for the current month has been paid, the officer in charge of the distillery or depôt should, as a matter of course, give a pass for the quantity on which duty is tendered.

Payment of license fee to be noted on license.

9-4-92.

10. A pass granted by the officer in charge of a distillery or depôt covers the spirit in transit from the distillery or depôt to the retail shop specified in the pass and to no other shop. Passes must be returned to the officer in charge of distillery or depôt after expiration of the time for which they are current. The period of currency of any pass should be regulated by the distance of the shop from the distillery, and should not usually exceed seven days; but in case of shops in remote situations and of small consumption the period may, with the Collector's sanction, extend to fourteen days. If a pass is not returned to the officer in charge of distillery or depôt who issued it on or before the expiration of the time for which it is current, the party who took out the pass is liable to the penalty laid down in clause 2, section 59 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1878.

Efficacy of pass.

9-4-92.

11. *In the case of distilleries situated at a long distance from the Excise Office and the treasury, the duty on country spirits may be received by the Superintendent or other officer in charge of the distillery, who is also to realize the distillery fees on the quantity distilled and remit the same, together with the duty realized, to the treasury on the day of receipt, or on the next day.

Levy of duty and distillery fees in distilleries.

Section XVI.—Country Spirits.

Out-still System.

1. The holder of a license under the out-still system pays to Government a certain sum per mensem for working between sunrise and sunset a single still only, of a certain defined capacity, and for opening a shop for the sale of his spirit under conditions laid down in the license. No definite area to be supplied by any shop is fixed, but practically it is regulated by the situation of any other shops similarly licensed and of shops drawing their supplies from the public distillery. †The general rule is that no two out-stills should be within five miles of another, or should be so near each other as to affect injuriously the sale of either, and no new shop should be opened

20. Rent is charged at the rate of one anna per day per quarter cask, and one anna six pies per hogshead remaining in the Excise godown after the fourth day.

Rent to be charged.

21. Spirits manufactured at Shahjahanpur and imported into Bengal under the above rules may, after payment of full duty of excise, either a the place of manufacture or in the district into which the spirit is imported, be sold by persons holding licenses for the sale of imported liquor. Such spirits whether issued from an Excise godown, or purchased from a licensed vendor, when intended for sale, shall be transported under a pass in the same manner as imported liquors.

Sale and transport.

22. The provisions of sections 61 and 75 of Act VII (B. C.) of 1878, shall apply to all Shahjahanpur spirits imported into Lower Bengal in excess of the quantity shown in the bond or pass prescribed in clauses 3 and 5, respectively, or otherwise in contravention of these rules.

Provisions of sections 61 and 75 shall apply to all Shahjahanpur spirits.

23. These rules do not apply to spirits intended for exportation by sea, which, under section 145 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, as amended by Act II of 1887, must be consigned direct from the distillery to the Collector of Customs under the bond prescribed by section 144 of the said Act. 22-12-02.

Capacities of stills.

From the 1st April 1893 all restrictions on the capacity of fermenting vats in outstills are withdrawn. From that date Collectors are empowered to extend the capacity of stills to any extent that they may think desirable, reporting their action to the Commissioner of Excise, who will have power to revise their orders, if necessary. The following general rules and principles are to be observed in fixing the capacities of stills :—

(a) The minimum liquid capacity of stills should not, as a rule, be fixed at less than 5 gallons, and the larger sizes should ordinarily be multiples of 5. In the case of stills of the capacity of upwards of 20 gallons, the calculation should be made on multiples of 10.

(b) Stills of a liquid capacity of 16½ gallons and upwards should generally be of metal.

(c) Each metal still shall have its liquid capacity in gallons and its number on the district roll engraved or cut with a cold chisel on the rim of the mouth or on the neck with the addition of a broad arrow. It shall be the duty of the inspecting officers to have these marks made, and at least twice during the year, to test the actual capacity and see that no change has been made. The number of each marked metal still and its liquid capacity shall be entered in Register No. 7 in Appendix A, on page 190 of the Excise Manual. All inspecting officers shall be supplied with gallon measures for the purpose of testing capacity. 9-2-93.

within such a distance from an already existing one as to draw away any of its custom; special care being taken in regulating the distances that the cheaper liquor of an out-still may not find its way to a shop ostensibly drawing its supplies from the sudder distillery.

Where in force.

2. The system may be employed in any district or part of a district as the Board may, with the sanction of Government, direct. It is especially suited to thinly-populated, jungly, or inundated tracts, remote from the sudder distillery, and to those parts of the country where facilities exist for illicit distillation.

Each license covers one still only.

3. The license for an out-still shop is in Form 57 (old No. 25), Appendix A. Every such license authorizes the working of one still only. Licenses will, as a general rule, be granted under the auction system.

Upset prices.

4. Upset prices shall be fixed beforehand, and no shop is to be let below the upset price unless for special reasons, and without the sanction of the Commissioner of Excise. In order to ascertain the upset fee of an outstill, the average monthly sales in gallons London-proof should be ascertained, as nearly as may be, by careful enquiry from the vendors' accounts. This should be multiplied by the distillery rate of duty, and the product would represent the upset fee, but the enhancement in any year should not exceed 25 per cent. of the fee last paid.

Capacities of stills and vats.

5. The capacities of both stills and vats shall be restricted according to the ascertained local demand for liquor. The following general rules and principles are to be observed in fixing the capacities:—

(a) As the result of experiments made, one maund of mohwa is taken to yield 1·8 gallons, and one maund of goor or rice 2·6 gallons of spirit London-proof.

(b) An imperial gallon measure is taken to contain about 5 seers of water or 4 seers of material.

(c) A metal still is held to be capable of working six times and a clay still three times daily, though in practice the stills are not usually worked so often.

(d) Three gallons liquid capacity is held to be equivalent to two seers working capacity.

(e) Stills should be worked only two-thirds full.

(f) Stills of a liquid capacity of 16⅔ gallons and upwards should generally be of metal.

(g) Metal stills should be stamped and marked so as to prevent fraudulent alteration of the still during the currency of its license.

(h) By the "working capacity of a still" is meant the maximum quantity of raw material which it can work off at one distillation.

(i) The liquid capacity of a still is obtained as follows:—Ascertain from the vendor's accounts and by local enquiries the average quantity of materials in seers actually required in a month to meet the local demand for spirits; divide this quantity by 30 in order to find out the amount required daily; then divide this amount again by 3 or 6, according as the still is of clay or metal, in order to obtain the quantity required for each distillation, i.e., the working capacity of the still; and lastly multiply the working capacity by $\frac{3}{2}$ in order to arrive at its liquid capacity. The formula is—

$$\text{Liquid capacity in gallons} = \frac{\text{Materials in seers required in a month.}}{30} \times \frac{1}{3 \text{ or } 6} \times \frac{3}{2}.$$

(j) The producing power of a still should be further limited by the number and capacity of fermenting vats allowed to it. In order to ascertain the capacity required for fermenting vessels, the average quantity of materials in seers required in a day to meet the local demand for spirits should be multiplied by the number of days required for fermentation.

(k) One gallon liquid capacity should be allowed for the fermentation of one seer of material.

(l) It has been found that fermentation in the cold weather for date molasses or rice takes ten days, for mohwa six days, and for date goor or rice mixed with mohwa eight days. For the hot season the capacity of vats is reduced by one-third.

(m) The minimum liquid capacity of stills should not, as a rule, be fixed at less than 5 gallons, and the larger sizes should ordinarily be multiples of 5. In the case of stills of the capacity of upwards of 20 gallons, the calculation should be made on multiples of 10.

(n) That, with the view of securing the maximum quantity of molasses, the proportion of such article to fluid mixed for fermentation should be, under ordinary circumstances, 1 to 6 in the winter and 1 to 4 in the summer, a low temperature requiring more dilution than high temperature.

Minimum prices.

6. District officers can, with the sanction of the Excise Commissioner and the Board, fix a minimum retail price for each quart bottle of liquor sold. It should be so fixed as to prevent any retail sales at a price which will not cover the amount of duty and cost of production.

No shops paying less than Rs. 8 a month to be opened without sanction.

7. In order to prevent the increase of drunkenness, and the establishment of too many places of vend, no new shop is to be opened at a lower rate of tax than Rs. 8 a month. Every opportunity should be taken to reduce the number of low-taxed spirit shops already licensed, due advertence being had to the circumstances of the locality in which they are established.

Competing shops.

8. A shop should not be licensed in a place where it will compete with an existing shop, unless the lessee agrees to take the old shop on its monthly tax in the event of its being closed; and, as a general rule, a new shop should not be opened during the year so near another licensed shop as to injure its lessee.

Definition of "oldest shop."

9. When a question arises between the officers of two districts regarding the injury done to a shop near the boundary of one district by a shop near the boundary of the other, that shop is to be considered established longest which has been held continuously open for the greatest length of time up to the period of the dispute. Except* where the existence of large marts renders it necessary, no out-still or liquor shop shall be within two miles of the border of a district, and no out-still shall be allowed within seven miles of any distillery area.

* B. O. No. 1217B of 18th September 1890.

(O). A separate shed shall be set apart in every outstill for fermenting vessels. They shall be arranged in rows, and a ticket made of tin shall be attached to the neck of each, showing its liquid capacity in gallons and the number it bears in the row. A signboard shall be hung from the principal wall of the shed on which is to be pasted a piece of paper showing the number of vats in each row, the liquid capacity of each vat, and the total capacity of the vats used. It is the duty of inspecting officers to see that this is done, and to test the actual capacity of at least ten per cent. of the vats on every visit. Should any discrepancy be found, the capacity of all the vats must be tested. 11-3-92.

10. A new shop established, or an old shop reopened, within a mile of the boundary of a district must pay at least the same tax as the nearest shop on the other side of the boundary. When out-still shops are near tracts supplied from public distilleries (whether in the same or another district), the Collector must endeavour to raise the monthly tax so high as to equalize as nearly as possible the actual tax paid on the out-still spirits with the duty paid on that which is manufactured at the public distillery.

Tax on shops which compete with one another.

11. The license fee is payable in every instance according to the instalments mentioned in clause 23, Section III, viz., the fee for two months at the time of settlement, whether the license is granted under the auction system or the fixed license fee system, and one month's fee on the date on which the currency of the license commences, and one month's fee on the first of every succeeding month until the whole of the fee due on the license has been realized.

Fee payable monthly in advance.

12. *Spirits or liquors found in a shop of which the license has been cancelled or relinquished or of which the term has expired, will be considered untaxed; and duty will be levied on them at the discretion of the Collector. This liability will not, however, be incurred if the spirits or liquors are taken over by another licensed vendor. In fixing the amount of tax to be levied under this rule, the Collector will, if possible, be guided by the rate of fixed duty levied on the same article in his own district, or in adjoining districts.

* B. C. O., 3 of July 1884.

Spirits, &c., remaining in a shop on cancelment of license.

13. †In the event of any out-still being closed or remaining unlet on the 1st April, every care should be taken to see that no liquor remains in the possession of the late license-holder, and that his license is recalled, adequate measures being at the same time taken to prevent the still being worked clandestinely. The Collector as the Magistrate of the district should issue stringent orders on the police to help the Excise Officers in the matter.

† B. C. O., 9 of March 1889.

No liquor to remain in possession of an outstill licenseholder on the outstill being closed.

14. Deputy Collectors and subordinate inspecting officers when visiting outstills shall report the result of their inspections to their respective superiors in Form No. 58 in Appendix A. The form will be useful to District Officers themselves as indicating points of inquiry.

SECTION XVII.—FERMENTED LIQUORS.

Beer.

1. Beer is a fermented liquor which has not undergone the process of distillation. It is made from malt, hops, maize, millet, or other varieties of vegetable matter. It may be manufactured in Bengal after the European method, either in a brewery set up within the walls of a public distillery or in a private brewery.

2. Collectors are authorized under section 18 of Act VII (B. C.) of 1878, as amended by Act XIII of 1890, to grant licenses in Form No. 59 in Appendix A for the construction and working of breweries in the English method within the limits of their respective districts.

Pass.

3. All liquor issued from a brewery shall be protected by a pass in Form No. 60 in Appendix A. In the case of the brewery at Sonada in Darjeeling, such pass may be granted by the manager of the brewery.

Duty.

4. Duty shall be levied at the rate of one anna per gallon on all beer passed out of the brewery, ~~except such as is supplied to the Commissariat Department for issue to the troops~~.

Refund of duty.

5. Collectors may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, refund the duty paid on beer which is returned unsold to the brewery from which it was issued.

Inspection of brewery.

6. The Collector, Deputy Collector, Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner, or other superior Revenue officer shall have at all times during working hours free ingress into every licensed brewery, and into the warehouses and other places appertaining thereto, for the inspection of the accounts of the brewery and for making such experiments as may be necessary for estimating the amount of duty payable, of inspecting the mash tuns, under-backs, wort-receivers, coppers, heating tanks, coolers, and other vessels used in brewery, and of gauging and proving beer brewed in the brewery.

Account.

7. The manager of every brewery shall keep an account in Form No. 61 in Appendix A showing the quantity of beer issued every month to each licensed retail shop with the amount of duty paid in the brewery. A copy of the account is to be submitted to the Collector or Deputy Commissioner not later than the 10th of the month succeeding that to which it relates.

SECTION XVIII.—TARI AND PACHWAI.

Rules prescribed by Government.

1. The following rules are prescribed, under section 35, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, for regulating the supply of fermented liquors to licensed vendors.

Târi.

2. Târi is the sap of any kind of palm-tree, and is used either when freshly drawn from the tree or after fermentation. The use of the juice in either condition by the owner of the trees shall not be in any way restricted, or interfered with, if the quantity in his possession does not exceed four seers, or if the produce of the date-tree is used by such owner for the manufacture of goor or molasses, but he may not without a license sell the fermented or unfermented juice for local consumption.

Pachwai.

3. Pachwai is a liquor manufactured from fermented rice or millet or any other similar grain, and is sold diluted or undiluted. Clauses 5 and 6 of this section apply to licenses for the retail of pachwai.

Unfermented. Licenses at Rs. 5 a year.

4. A Collector may grant a license in Form 62 (old No. 26,) Appendix A for the sale of unfermented târi only, as tapped from the tree, at those periods of the year when the fresh juice is in request. Under section

I.—Each consignment shall be protected by a pass from the Deputy Commissioner of Simla, specifying (a) description of malt liquor, (b) original specific gravity, (c) quantity (number of gallons), (d) number of casks in which liquor is contained, and (e) amount of duty paid.

II.—Duty on all liquor issued for sale to the public shall be paid at the rate of one anna per gallon to the Deputy Commissioner of Simla.

III.—The Deputy Commissioner of Simla will forward by post copies of duty-paid passes to the Collector of Patna, and will also inform him quarterly of the quantity of duty-free liquor originally issued for Commissariat uses transferred to duty-paid. 7-11-96.

"9. No separate license is required for the sale of beer brewed in this country, but it may be sold wholesale or retail under imported liquor licenses without the payment of any additional fee." 9-9-98.

5 ✓ "In the case of tari the license will be accompanied by a printed schedule of palm trees to be tapped in form No. 145, Appendix A." 18-8-93.

9.✓ "No fee shall be charged for this pass. The pass is to be returned to the officer granting it immediately on the expiry of its currency." 1-8-92.

8. "Under the authority vested in them by section 15, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, the Board direct that the limit of retail sale of tari and pachwai laid down in that section shall not apply to the case of sales made by licensed vendors to persons holding special passes under the following rules."
3-10-91.

9.x" Collector, Excise Deputy Collector, Subdivisional Officer, or other officer duly authorized by the Collector to grant such a pass."^ 1-8-92.

9x✓ "The pass shall be in Form No. 142 in Appendix A," 9-4-93.

10 + "A house ticket in Form No. 66A, Appendix A, shall issued to every house-holder availing himself of this privilege."
7-1-9

13, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, no higher fee than five rupees can be demanded for such licenses, which will not authorize a vendor to store the târi in his shop and then sell it in a fermented state.

Fermented. Licenses to highest bidder.

5. A Collector may also issue a license in Form 63 (old No. 27,) Appendix A for the retail of fermented târi or pachwai. A license will, as a general rule, be granted under the auction system to the person who offers the highest monthly tax for the license, the minimum rate being one rupee per month. But, as laid down in clause 1 of section IV, licenses may sometimes be granted under the fixed license fee system. Gachuas* or tappers of palm-trees shall be granted a license in Form 64 (old No. 26A,) Appendix A for the wholesale supply of târi to retail vendors of the same, and târi shall be carried from the place of supply to the retail shops under passes granted by the Collector in Form 65 (old No. 26B), Appendix A.

* B. C. of Sept 1887.

Refusal of bid.

6. The Collector may refuse to accept a bid if not satisfied as to the character of the bidder.

License fee payable in instalments.

7. The license fee is payable in every instance according to the instalments mentioned in clause 24, section III, whether the license is granted under the auction system or the fixed fee system.

Sale of târi and undiluted pachwai in excess of four seers prohibited.

8. Under the authority vested in them by section 15, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, the Board prohibit the sale of târi and undiluted pachwai, in a larger quantity than four seers; but this prohibition shall not apply to the case of sales made by licensed vendors to persons holding special passes under the following rules.

Extension of limit to the sale and possession of târi.

9. The extension of the limit to the sale and possession of târi by licensed vendors, or persons purchasing from licensed vendors, from four to twelve seers at a time, is authorized generally in every district in the Lower Provinces of Bengal, except within a distance of four miles from the cantonment of Dinapore, in the district of Patna; provided that the quantity be specified in a special pass granted by the vendor at the time of sale to the purchaser.

Pachwai licenses may be settled with the headmen of villages inhabited by aboriginal tribes.

10. †District Officers may, with the sanction of the Commissioner of Excise, also settle pachwai licenses with the headmen of the villages inhabited by aboriginal tribes, such as the Kols, Kochs, Mandais, Dhangars, Garrows, Hajangs, Boonahs, and Sonthals, &c., at such fixed monthly or annual fees as may be determined on a consideration of the number and the circumstances of the families which will avail themselves of the privilege granted by the license. For each pass to keep in possession pachwai, brewed at home, in a larger quantity than four seers, a fee of 8 annas is to be charged (regardless of the quantity); but for the possession of pachwai purchased from a licensed shop in any larger quantity, a free pass is to be granted, i.e., no fee is to be charged for the pass. SECTION XIX.—GANJA, SIDDHI (OR BHANG, PATTI, AND SABJI), MAJUM (OR MAJUN), AND CHARAS.

1. Ganja consists of the dried flowers of the female hemp plant, and is used principally for smoking.

Description.

2. For excise purposes there are three recognized sorts of ganja, viz., flat, round, and choor, each of which is liable to duty according to its supposed value. Flat and round ganja are each manufactured by a distinct and special process, in order to get rid of the leaves and as much of the stick or twig on which the flower grows as it may be practicable to dispense with. The chief difference between flat and round ganja is that the former contains much more useless wood or twig than the latter. In flat ganja the twigs are almost as large as branches, while in round they are cut as short as possible. In the preparation of round ganja greater manipulation is used to get rid of the leaves. Round ganja also has an entirely different appearance from that of flat ganja, owing to the rolling of each branch in the drying process giving the flowers a rounded form. Choor ganja consists of the broken bits of the flower which drop off in making flat and round ganja. The trade in Gurjat ganja which grows in the Orissa Tributary States, known as the Gurjat Mehals is regulated by special rules.

2. For excise purposes there are four recognised sorts of ganja, viz., flat (large twigs), flat (small twigs), round, and chur, each of which is liable to duty according to its supposed value. Flat and round ganja are each manufactured by a distinct and special process, in order to get rid of the leaves and as much of the stick or twig on which the flower grows as it may be practicable to dispense with. The chief difference between round and the two kinds of flat ganja is that the former contains less useless wood or twig than the other kinds. In flat ganja the twigs are almost as large as branches, while in round they are cut as short as possible. In the preparation of round ganja greater manipulation is used to get rid of the leaves. Round ganja also has an entirely different appearance from that of flat ganja, owing to the rolling of each branch in the drying process giving the flowers a rounded form. Flat ganja, large twigs, is the ganja left upon the branches which are cut about 2 feet to 2 feet 6 inches long, after manufacture and then baled; when, however, before being baled, the branches are first broken into twigs about a foot long and tied into small flattish bundles, the ganja is called flat ganja, small twigs. Chur ganja consists of the broken bits of the flower which drop off in making flat and round ganja. It is also manufactured specially by removing Garhjat ganja, which grows in the Orissa Tributary States, known as Garjhat Mahals, is regulated by special rules. 6-2-94.

2. Rule 12A, section XVIII, page 152.—For the words "more than 4 seers of undiluted or 12 seers of diluted pachwai," in lines 3-4 of the above rule, substitute the words " more than 20 seers of undiluted, or 1 maund 20 seers of diluted pachwai in the district of Darjeeling, and more than 4 seers of undiluted or 12 seers of diluted pachwai in all other districts." 16-12-1902.

7 The duty on Siddhi is fixed at the rate of eight annas a seer in all the districts of Bengal except Burdwan (Sadar & Raniganj Subdivisions only) Midnapore, Hooghly, Howrah, Calcutta & the 24 Parganas, where the rate is 12 annas a seer. 11. 10. 02

5(a) A Collector may also issue a license in form No. 63 (old No. 27), Appendix A, for the retail vend of fermented tari. In the districts in which the tree-tax system is in force, the license shall be accompanied by a printed schedule of palm trees to be tapped, in form No. 145, Appendix A, and the fee shall be determined according to a fixed rate per tree. Gachuas or tappers of palm trees shall be granted a license in form No. 64 (old No. 26A), Appendix A, for the wholesale supply of tari to retail vendors of the same, and tari shall be carried from the place of supply to the retail shops under passes granted by the Collector in form No. 65 (old No. 26B), Appendix A.

Fermented tari license.

5(b) For the retail sale of pachwai a license may be issued in the same form as that for tari. But it shall ordinarily be granted under the auction system to the person who offers the highest monthly fee for it. Occasionally, however, it may be granted under the fixed license-fee system as laid down in clause 1 of section IV.

grows wild in many districts of Lower Bengal and Behar, but it is collected for wholesale vend chiefly in Monghyr and Bhagulpore, the drug of those districts being considered superior. It is usually consumed after being ground into a paste, and then dissolved in some liquid. It is also smoked in some places, but very rarely.

Limit of possession.

4. No person shall possess a larger quantity of the drug, or any solid preparation of the same, than a quarter of a seer without a license or pass from the Collector.

License to medical practitioner for possession and retail of siddhi.

5. The* Collector may grant to any medical practitioner residing within his district a license in Opium Form IV on page 35 of the Excise Manual, mutatis mutandis, for the possession and retail of bhang for medical purposes only, provided that such practitioner shall not have in his possession at one time more than five seers of bhang.

* B. C. O., 2 of January 1886.

Pass and license required for export and sale of siddhi.

6. No person is permitted to purchase siddhi for export to another district, or obtain siddhi for sale, without a pass on payment of a fee of two rupees, and license from the Collector of the district into which the siddhi is to be conveyed or in which it is to be stored. The pass and the license must be countersigned by the Collector of the district in which the siddhi is bought or obtained.

Duty; when to be levied.

7. The duty on siddhi is fixed at the rate of eight annas a seer. Siddhi, whether obtained locally or imported from another district, must be stored in a warehouse under rules similar to those under which ganja is stored, and duty must be levied at the time the siddhi is removed from the warehouse to be taken to the shop for retail sale.

Manner of procuring siddhi.

8. A licensed wholesale merchant or retailer of another district, who wishes to purchase siddhi in the producing district, must purchase it from a wholesale dealer of that district, subject, mutatis mutandis, to the procedure laid down in clause 27, section XX of the Excise Manual. But when he wishes to obtain his supplies from any local fields or places where the siddhi-yielding plants grow wild, he may be allowed to do so in the presence of an excise officer deputed by the Collector for the purpose. It shall be the duty of such officer to weigh the drug before it is removed, and to report to the Collector the particulars connected therewith, viz., the weight, condition, green or dried, quality, &c., of the drug.

Prepayment of duty; when required.

9. Exportation or importation of siddhi for wholesale is allowed without prepayment of duty fixed on it, but when intended for retail sale, the duty must be prepaid on the quantity exported or imported. A retailer, when he applies to supply himself locally, must prepay the duty on the quantity applied for.

Application of certain ganja rules.

10. The rules in clauses 17 to 20, 22, 25, 29, 31, 37 to 64 and 75 to 80 in section XX of the Excise Manual shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to siddhi. For form of Register of siddhi passes see Form 69 (54 "Board's Rules, 1888") in Appendix A.

Majum and charas.

11. Majum or majun is a confection made of siddhi or ganja, mixed with milk (or ghee) and sugar. The resin which exudes from the flower and leaves of the hemp plant is charas. It is used for smoking.

SECTION XX.—RULES FOR CULTIVATION, STORAGE, TRANSPORT, AND SALE OF GANJA, &c.

Rules prescribed under the law.

1. The following rules are prescribed under section 35, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, for the cultivation, preparation, store, and sale of the articles above named.

Medicinal use of green ganja unrestricted.

2. No restriction is imposed on the use of the hemp plant in its green state for medical or other purposes, or on its manipulation for the manufacture of fibre. But any preparation of the plant to be used, stored, and sold as a narcotic or stimulant is prohibited, except under the following rules.

Preparation and sale restricted.

Application for license to cultivate.

3. Any person who intends to cultivate the hemp plant for the purpose of making ganja in any year must first apply in writing to the Sub-Deputy Collector at Nowgong, who is also the Supervisor of the Ganja Mehal, for a license authorizing him to cultivate. The application shall specify the name of the cultivator, his residence, the area of the intended cultivation, the boundaries of the field or fields, and the name of the village within which they are situated, and shall be in Form No. 70 (old No. 28) in Appendix A.

Time of application.

4. The application for a license must be presented to the Supervisor of the Ganja Mehal in or before the month of July. A register of such applications shall be kept in the Ganja office in the Form No. 71 given in Appendix A. The Supervisor shall immediately grant the license, unless he knows of some valid objection to the grant of a license to the applicant, in which case he shall at once forward the application, with his objection stated on it, for the orders of the Collector of the district or of the Subdivisional Officer.

Term of license.

5. The license issued shall be in force for one working season only, and shall be in Form 72 (old No. 29) in Appendix A.

Counterpart required.

6. On receipt of a license, the cultivator receiving it shall sign a counterpart, which shall be kept in the office of the Supervisor of Ganja Cultivation.

No fee necessary.

7. No fee shall be charged for the application, or for the license, or for the counterpart, and these three documents are exempt from stamp duty.

Supervisor's return.

8. Once a month, or more frequently if the Collector of the district thinks fit, the Supervisor shall submit to the Collector in Form 73 given in Appendix A, a detailed list of all the licenses granted by him, showing the particulars entered in each license.

Substitute the following rules for rules 12 and 13, Section XVIII, page 152:—

"Rule 12.—In cases not covered by rules 10 and 11, with a view to meeting the requirements of special occasions, such as marriages, a Collector, Excise Deputy Collector, Subdivisional Officer, or other officer duly authorised by a Collector to this effect, may grant a license for the manufacture of pachwai at home or private consumption up to such limit as he may consider reasonable. The license should state the amount in respect of which sanction is given in terms of seers of undiluted or diluted pachwai, it being understood that 4 seers of the article undiluted equal 12 seers of the same diluted. It shall be granted on payment of a fee of 8 annas, and should be returned to the Collector immediately on the expiration of its currency. The license will confer no right to sell or barter any portion of the liquor covered by it." 25-1-1902.

"Rule 12A.—For similar reasons, and in similar circumstances, the officers named in the preceding clause may grant a pass for the possession of more than 4 seers of undiluted or 12 seers of diluted pachwai, up to such limit as he may consider reasonable, to be purchased from a licensed vendor. The pass shall be granted free of charge, and should be returned to the Collector immediately on the expiration of its currency. It should state the amount in respect of which sanction is given in terms of seers of undiluted or diluted pachwai, it being understood that 4 seers of the article undiluted equal 12 seers of the same diluted. The pass will confer no right to sell or barter any portion of the liquor covered by it." 25-1-1902.

"Rule 13.—The license and pass referred to in the two preceding rules should be in forms 67 and 68. Applications for the same should be made to the Collector, Excise Deputy Collector, Subdivisional Officer, or other officer duly authorised in this behalf by the Collector to grant such licenses [illegible]." 25-1-1902.

CLAUSE 11, SECTION XVIII, PAGE 151.

Insert the words "and Dinajpur" after "Murshidabad" in line 10 of the note at foot of the clause.

Expunge the word "and" before "Murshidabad" in the same line. 12-7-1902.

Supervisor's progress report.

9. From the 1st November up to the end of the following January, the Supervisor shall submit to the Collector of the district a weekly report of the progress of the cultivation and prospect of the crop. The Collector may call for any other reports which he thinks necessary from time to time.

Inspection of manufacture.

10. In February and March the Supervisor, or one of his assistants, shall visit each manufacturng yard or chatar, as often as possible, to take note of the outturn of the produce and to see that the drug as manufactured is forwarded to the public golah, or stored in some authorized place in the premises of the cultivators, or the wholesale dealers who prepare their own drug. A fortnightly report of inspection is to be submitted to the District Officer through the Sub-divisional Officer in Form 74 given in Appendix A.

Ganja ordinarily to be stored in a public golah.

11. The manufacturer of the drug, whether a cultivator or a wholesale goladar, must give notice three days before he commences to cut his crop to the Supervisor, or to the Assistant Supervisor, and must send into the public golah all the ganja he manufactures. But any cultivator who can satisfy the Supervisor that he has a secure private place of his own shall be allowed to store the drug manufactured by him in his own premises, subject to periodical inspection by the Supervisor or his assistants.

Exception.

Pass.

12. The Supervisor or his assistant should give a chalan or pass in Form 75 (old No. 30) provided in Appendix A to the manufacturer to protect the ganja while in transit from the manufacturing ground, or chatar, to the public golah, specifying the quantity, the kind of ganja covered by it, the name of the owner, and the date on which the ganja should be delivered at the golah, and the conditions under which it is to be kept in the public golah. Any neglect to deliver the ganja at the golah within the time stated shall render the manufacturer liable to a penalty of Rs. 200. A cultivator who, under clause 11, is allowed to retain ganja in his own private golah must obtain from the Supervisor of Ganja Cultivation a license to retain possession of it until it is disposed of to a licensed purchaser. The full duty, at the rate chargeable on the sort of ganja in which the deficiency or defect is found, must be at once levied on any deficiency of weight and on any broken bundles. Any bale or bag received without the original seal may, if the Collector thinks fit, be confiscated. 45 46. In the case of a private warehouse, if the Collector is satisfied, by personal inspection or by report received from the Excise Deputy Collector or Subdivisional Officer, that the applicant's warehouse is in a situation convenient of access to the excise officers, and so constructed that any ganja stored in it will be perfectly secure against fraud or depredation, he is to enter it in register in Form 111 in Appendix A (No. 55 of the Board's series of registers), and grant a certificate of registry in Form 112 (old No. 38) in Appendix A to the person applying for the same, on the following conditions—

Certificate of registry.

(a) That the warehouse shall have only one door, which shall be secured by two locks, one of which should be Chubb's, the key of one to be kept by the owner, and that of the Chubb's, by the Excise Officer appointed to supervise the store. The Chubb's lock shall be supplied by Government.

(c) That the licensee shall not sell any quantity of ganja by retail vend.

(d) That he shall constantly exhibit a signboard at the warehouse bearing his name and the words "licensed to sell ganja wholesale."

(e) That he shall give access to the store whenever the supervising Excise Officer or his official superior shall require.

(f) Infraction of any of the above conditions will subject the holder of this license to forfeiture of the license in addition to such penalties as he may be liable under section 5 or section 60 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1878.

The license in Form 112 (old No. 38) will remain in force only to the end of the year in which it is issued, and will not be renewed except on application duly made to the Collector. All Government warehouses shall be entered in Register 111 (55, "Board's Rules, 1888").

Collector may cancel registry.

47. The Collector may at any time cancel or refuse to renew the registry of any licensed private warehouse, or the lease of any Government warehouse should the owner of it transgress the excise laws or any of these rules, or should he allow the building, if a private one, to fall out of repair, so that it is no longer a secure place of custody.

Commissioner shall determine the number of private warehouses.

48. Where warehouses are provided by Government, the Commissioner shall from time to time determine the number of private warehouses, if any, to be licensed. The number of wholesale dealers in any place shall not exceed the number of Government and licensed warehouses. The upset rent of each Government warehouse shall be fixed by the Collector with the approval of the Commissioner. Where the number of applicants exceeds the number of Government warehouses, the leases shall be put up to auction annually.

This pass must, on payment of a fee of Rs. 2, be obtained from the Collector of the district into which it is proposed to convey the ganja; and on being produced at the excise office of the district in which the ganja is stored, it will be countersigned and dealt with in the manner prescribed for import passes in clauses 27, 28, 29, 31, 37, 38, 41 and 42. A copy of the pass should be forwarded by the Collector who grants it to the Subdivisional Officer if the warehouse to which it relates lies within a subdivision.

A Collector may also issue a license in Form No. 63 (old No. 27), Appendix A, for the retail vend of fermented tari. A license will ordinarily be granted under the auction system to the person who offers the highest monthly tax for the license, the minimum rate being one rupee per month. The Board may, however, direct that in any district the license shall be accompanied by a printed schedule of palm-trees to be tapped in Form No. 145, Appendix A, the fee being calculated according to a fixed rate per tree, and further, that in any specified portion of such district, besides a tree-tax levied as above, there shall also be a shop license fee, which will be determined by auction. 3-4-96.

Sales to licensed dealers only.

51. A wholesale dealer may sell his ganja only to another duly authorized wholesale dealer, or to a retail dealer licensed as provided in clause 59, &c.

Stock to be taken yearly.

52. Stock* must be taken in each warehouse between 25th and 31st March, and, to avoid complication of accounts, no ganja should be issued from any golah from the day of weighment to 31st March. In cases in which the whole of the ganja fit for use is disposed of in the middle of the year, and the golahdar relinquishes his license, the account of his golah may be closed within the year.

* B. C. O., 7 of February 1884.

At head-quarters, by whom.

53. This duty should be performed at the head-quarters of a district by the Deputy Collector in charge of the Excise Department, of a subdivision by the Subdivisional Officer, and at other warehouses by any gazetted officer deputed by the Collector, and must not under any circumstances be delegated to any lower subordinate.

Procedure.

54. All the bales and bags should be opened and ganja taken out, and the quantity of each of the three descriptions of ganja classified as unfit for use, if any, should be separated. The request of a golahdar to classify any ganja as unfit for use should ordinarily be accepted. The three different kinds of ganja fit for use should first be separately weighed, the weighment being made by the standard iron weights. After weighment, the ganja should be put back into the bales and bags, each kind separately, and the bales and bags resealed. The ganja unfit for use, if any, should then be weighed, and after weighment it should be kept separately in sealed bags, each description of ganja, with the quantity contained in each bag, and the name of the owner, being noted on each. The warehouse room should be carefully swept, and wastage, if any, weighed. Any loose twigs or broken flowers found in the room should be weighed as wastage: straw, rope, &c., being thrown away and not taken into account in weighment. The wastage should be kept in a sealed box or bag, the quantity and the name of the owner being noted. The ganja classified as unfit for use and the wastage, if any, must be destroyed on or before 31st March with the approval of the Collector, in the presence of the Excise Deputy Collector or Subdivisional Officer, or other gazetted officer deputed, and written off the account on or before 31st March.

Ganja unfit for use and wastage, to be destroyed.

[NOTE.—The "deficiency" is the difference between, on the one hand, the total stock received, and on the other hand the total of (i) the quantity passed out, (ii) that unfit for use, (iii) wastage, and (iv) ganja in store fit for use,—vide illustration given in the Board's Circular No. 2 of June 1881.]

55. The ganja dealer shall be responsible for any deficiency in excess of 2½ per cent., and duty shall be levied accordingly and realized on or before 31st March. The excess deficiency on which duty is levied shall be separately shown in the accounts, and the deficiency within the limit of 2½ per cent. must be written off the accounts by the Collector on or before 31st March, subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Excise, to whom the proceedings shall be reported in Form 113 (old No. 39), Appendix A.

Excess deficiency to be reported to Commissioner.

55 56. The officers in whose presence the destruction of ganja as referred to in the preceding clause takes place must always attach a certificate to Form 113 (old No. 39), in Appendix A to the effect that they have personally seen the weight of ganja classified as unfit for use and the wastage tested, and that they were duly destroyed.

Officers to certify in stock taking.

56 57. The Collector shall submit to the Commissioner of Excise a consolidated district report in Form 113 (old No. 39), in Appendix A certifying that he has obtained the required certificates from the different officers who took the stock. The Ganja Registers 109 (old No. 37), 114 (old No. 40), and 115 (old No. 41), shall be tested at the time of taking stock, and compared with the golahdar's books, any difference being noted. The officer taking stock account should clearly state in his report to the Collector what quantities of ganja, both fit and unfit for use, of the four different kinds, as well as wastage, were found by him in stock; and any discrepancies or irregularities found in the stock or account should be noted.

Collector to submit a consolidated district report in Form 113.

57 58. Every Excise officer in charge of a warehouse must keep up a register of deliveries of ganja at the warehouse in Form 114 (old No. 40), Appendix A. The register of receipts of ganja into the warehouse Form 109 (old No. 37) has been prescribed in clause 43. From these two registers the officer must compile and send in to the Collector on the 1st of each month an abstract in Form 115 (old No 41), Appendix A.

Register of receipts and deliveries.

Abstract to Collector.

In the case of a warehouse lying within a subdivision, the abstract should be submitted to the Collector through the Subdivisional Officer.

58 59. The retail of ganja is subject to the general rules for the fixed duty system in section VIII. The licenses will be in Form 116 (old No. 42), Appendix A, and will be granted either under the auction system or the fixed license fee system, as the Board may generally or specially direct.

Retail vend.

59 60. Licensed vendors must pay duty at the prescribed rate (vide clause 36) before removing the ganja from the wholesale dealer's warehouse. Besides the amount of the fine, the said persons are also entitled to share the proceeds of the sale of confiscated articles. The Collector can also, within the amount of the fine realized, award compensation to any person subjected to annoyance or injury by the proceedings of the case in which the fine was imposed. Provided, however, that in the case of ganja, when the purchaser is a wholesale dealer, the duty need not be paid at the time of sale if the purchaser so desire, but the ganja may be delivered to him on payment of the amount bid, less the amount of duty, subject to the condition of the quantity purchased being added to the stock already in the purchaser's warehouse and to payment of duty by the retail vendor on its issue from the warehouse as provided in clause 60, section XX, of these rules.

Security bonds.

	Rs.
From Sub-Inspectors, Head Clerks, Darogahs and officers in charge of ganja golahs or spirits depôts ...	500
From Mohurirs and subordinate clerks	100

2. Collectors should be careful, however, not to demand, in any case a larger amount of security than is necessary, with reference to the funds likely to be entrusted to the officer. A bond is to be executed by the officer furnishing security in Form 127 in Appendix A.

Return No. XXXVI.

4. Every excise officer through whose hands any money may pass on account of Government shall keep a regular cash account of receipts and disbursements for the inspection of his superiors.

Excise officer to keep a cash account.

5. A monthly return of progress in settlement of licenses for the sale of exciseable articles in Form No. XVI in Appendix A or such form as the Board may from time to time prescribe, shall be submitted by district officers not* later than the 5th of the month following that for which the return is due, to the Commissioner of Excise for the first nine months of each official year.

Return No. XVI.

* B. C. O., 13 of July 1888.

6. Quarterly and annual returns of excise revenue and of the consumption of exciseable articles as well as an annual return of charges in the excise department are to be furnished to the Commissioner of Excise in the forms (Forms now in use Nos. XIV, XXIX and XLII in appendix A) that the Board of Revenue may from time to time prescribe. In addition to the instructions given at the top of Return No. XIV, the following general rules† are to be observed in its preparation :—

Returns Nos. XIV, XXIX, and XLII.

† B. C. O., 3 of June 1884.

I.—In Return No. XIV no sum is to be entered as collected that has not been credited in the accounts rendered to the Accountant-General.

II.—Moneys collected by the excise officers in the interior, but not paid in, and even moneys paid in at subdivisional treasuries, if not brought to credit in the district accounts, are not to appear as collected.

III.—Sums thus received on account of any 'fixed duty' article will not, in like manner, appear either as a demand or a balance. They should be left for entry in the succeeding return.

IV.—In like manner no article must be entered in tables I and II as 'consumed' or 'expended,' the duty on which has not been actually credited during the quarter. The consumption entered in these tables of the return must exactly correspond with the duty shown as collected. It follows that the entries of issues and receipts in table IV will not, as a matter of course, precisely agree with the corresponding entries in table I.

V.—No explanation is to be given of any increase or decrease of revenue shown in this return which does not amount to at least one hundred rupees, unless it is caused by some special circumstances, which in the opinion of the Collector ought to be brought to notice. In like manner, increases or decreases of licenses not amounting to five may be left unnoticed.

* B. C. O., 9 of June 1882

VI.—The* two months' fee payable at the time of settlement, in the case of shops coming under clause 23, section III of the Excise Manual, is not to be considered as a deposit to be credited in the last quarter of the year ; but it is to be treated as part of the amount due on account of the first quarter from which the term of the license runs. Thus, if the license runs from the 1st April, the two months' advance fee together with three months' fees or five months' fees in all, are to be shown in column 11 of table I of the return for the first quarter of the year ; and if the two months' advance fee is paid before the 1st April, it should also be shown in column 13. In this case it will also appear in column 24 of the return for the fourth quarter of the preceding year. In the returns for the second and third quarters column 11 will show three months' fees, and in the fourth quarter's return only one month's fee.

Rule 5, section XXIII, page 172.
Substitute "three months" for "nine months" in line 6.

RULE 8, SECTION XXIII, PAGE 173.

Substitute the following revised rule for the above rule:—

"The work done by the executive staff shall be closely scrutinised at the end of each month by the Excise Deputy Collector and the District Officer. For this purpose an abstract statement showing the results during the month shall be prepared within fifteen days of the close of each month in Form No. LIV, Appendix A, and upon this the District Officer will pass such orders as may be necessary. The returns after disposal should be kept in a guard file and should invariably be examined at the time of inspection." 12-10-1902.

FORM No. 7—(No. 49 "Board's Rules 1888.")

[See Section II, Clause 23.]

Register of License fee payment.

Directions—Each settlement should have a separate number of license, and when a vendor's license is cancelled, ither for non-payment of ees, breach of condition of license, or withdrawal under section 29, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, surrender under section 30, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, or other causes, a cancelment entry should be made against the license number in columns 8 to 23, giving the reason and date on which the license ceased to be in force. Such entries should, as a rule, be made in the handwriting of the Excise Deputy Collector, or the officer in immediate charge of tho Excise Department.

When the license for a shop is resettled after it has been cancelled, the entry of such resettlement should be made after the last entry in the register and under a separate number of license. An entry should also be made after the cancelment entry of the name of the new licensee, and the date and number of the license. When fees are paid for part of a month, as for instance, when the currency of a license commences after the first day of the month, the entry of such payment in columns 8 to 23 should be initialled by the Collector after he has satisfied himself that the amount is correctly calculated.

When the settlement for any class of shops is made for one year only, any advance payment should not be held in deposit, but should be credited to revenue as license fees. A separate register should be opened for licenses current for more than one year. If a license, which is current for more than one year is cancelled and resettled, the entry of such resettlement should be made in the register of licenses current for one year only; and in the register of licenses current for more than one year, a cancelment entry should be made in columns 8 to 23, against the license number, giving the reason and date on which the license ceased to be in force such* entries should, as a rule, be made in the hand-writing of the Excise Deputy Collector or the officer in immediate charge of the Excise Department. The entry should also mention the name of the new licensee, and the date and number of the license.

Note.—In the case of outstills it is desirable, in columns 8 to 23, of this register, to show the quantity and description of materials distilled and the quantity of spirits sold. The heading in column 7 is therefore in the case of outstills to be corrected to "Quantity and description of materials distilled and quantity of spirits sold," in the place of "Quantity of article purchased."

Each page of this register is to be initialled by the Excise Deputy Collector, or the officer in immediate charge of the Excise Department, as evidence of the entries contained in it being correct. A separate Register is to be kept for each different kind of license.

Name of Article.	Date of sale.

2. A complete list of all the shops for which licenses will be offered and a copy of each form of license are open to general inspection at the Collectorate. A list is given below of the shops of each kind to be now settled in the district. What will be sold at auction will be the right to open a shop at the site named in the list or at some locality in its immediate vicinity, being within a certain distance from it, to be mentioned by the Collector at the auction, as the maximum distance from such site within which it will be permitted to open a shop. The Collector, however, reserves to himself the right, in case of combination or for other cause, to transfer, before settlement, any shop from the locality specified to some other locality in the neighbourhood.

3. It is not intended to open any other shops during the year; but the Collector reserves to himself the right to establish temporary shops at fairs or melas, as occasion may require: provided, however, that when no objection is raised by any other licensee, the site of a shop, with the Collector's consent, may be changed during the year.*

4. The auction will be held subject to the following conditions :—

(d)—That the term of the license shall be for one year,* and that except as provided in the next clause, the license fee shall be payable in advance in the following instalments, namely, the sum equivalent to the fee for two months at the time of sale, and one month's fee on the date on which the currency of the license commences, and a similiar one month's fee on the first of every succeeding month, until the whole of the fee has been realised; failure to comply with this condition will render the holder liable to immediate cancelment of the license and resettlement of the shop. The auction-purchaser will not be entitled to receive back any portion of the advance in the event of his shop being closed before the

* In districts in which the triennial system of excise licenses is or may be in force, the following alterations should be made in the notification :—

For paragraph 3 of the notification substitute the following :—" It is not at present intended to open any other shop during the term of the license, but the Collector does not absolutely bind himself in this respect. On special cause shown, and with the sanction of the Board of Revenue in each case, the number of shops may be increased : provided, however, that whenever a new shop may be opened, it will be optional to any holder of licenses for the sale of similar goods to those to be sold in the new shop, if his shop be within a mile of the new shop, to surrender his license, when the Collector will settle his shop by auction or otherwise.

In clause "d," paragraph 4 of the notification, for "one year" substitute the words "three years."

expiration of the year, on violation of any of the conditions of the license or his being convicted of a non-bailable criminal offence, or of any offence against the excise laws or rules; and in the case of the surrender of a license under Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, the licensee is to give 15 days' previous notice in writing to the Collector, and pay a sum equal to the license fee for 15 days over and above the amounts already paid in advance; and in the case of the surrender of a license under Act I of 1878, the licensee is to give one month's previous notice in writing to the Collector, and pay such fine not exceeding six months' license fee as the Collector may adjudge over and above the amounts already paid in advance. Provided that, if during the term of the license the duty on country spirit should be raised, it shall be optional to the license-holder to relinquish his license; and also that in the event of the duty being lowered the Collector will be authorized to cancel such licenses as he may think proper. Provided also that such relinquishment or concellation of license shall not subject the license-holder to any forfeiture of his advance.

(e)—That in the case of licenses for the sale of tari, pachwai, charas, siddhi, and majum, an advance shall be taken at the time of sale equal to one month's fee, and the rest of the tax shall be payable in instalments once or twice a month, as the Collector may think fit, viz., on the 1st and 16th of each month, commencing from the date on which the currency of the license commences.*

(f)—That the currency of the license shall commence on the 1st April 18 , and that the auction-purchaser shall open his shop within fifteen days from that date, failing which the license will be cancelled, the sum paid in advance forfeited,† and the license fee for the month will be levied from the auction-purchaser. The Collector being at liberty to issue a fresh license at once.

† B. C. O., 13 of January 1889.

(g)—That the auction-purchaser shall adhere to all the provisions of the opium and excise laws, and of the rules which may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Revenue.

5. The right to open a shop will be put up to auction at an upset price to be determined by the Commissioner subject to the approval of the Board which shall not be less than the average amount of the monthly license fee paid for shops of the same description in the district concerned in the three previous years.

6. The right to open a shop will be put up to auction in separate lots of one or more shops in the order specified in the Notification or in such order as the officer conducting the sale may deem fit, and when one lot has been sold, the officer conducting the sale will not proceed to put up to auction the next lot until the sum payable in advance on account of the lot already sold has been actually paid: provided, however, that where the sum payable exceeds Rs. 25, a promissory note may be taken from any respectable and well-known purchaser in lieu of cash payment. When a lot is knocked down, the purchaser is liable for any loss that may accrue to Government in case it becomes necessary to re-sell the lot for a lower sum in consequence of his failure to pay in the sum payable at the time of sale or to redeem his promissory note on or before 4 P.M. of the day following the day on which the promissory note was signed. It will be expressly notified by the officer holding the sale that each bidder, whose bid is accepted, is subject to this condition in case of his failing to make good his bid, and will be immediately sued in the civil court in case of default.

7. Where the amount of the sum payable in advance is required to be paid at once in cash, and the bidder fails to make such payment, the Collector will either put up the lot again for sale immediately, or he will order it to be put up to sale after the other lots in the Notification have been disposed of, or he will postpone the sale to such future date as he shall then and there notify; and the defaulting purchaser shall be debarred from bidding for this lot or for any other lot, and he shall be required at once to leave the auction-room.

8. All sales held subsequently to the date of the annual sale in March will take place subject to the conditions contained in this Notification, so far as they may be applicable.

* There is an exception to this rule in the case of tari in certain districts as mentioned in clause 24, ection III, and this notification will require alteration in those districts.

9. The holder of a license is prohibited from sub-letting his shop or transferring his license to any other party without the consent of the Collector. If this rule is broken, the license will be cancelled, and the shop re-settled at auction with the highest bidder, or otherwise as the Collector may direct.

10. Any further information regarding the auction may be had on application at this office.

6. The purchasers of the right of retail sale of country spirit, rum, and imported liquors are entitled to sell imported liquors by the glass only, the liquor to be drunk on the premises.

(c)—That the person accepted as the purchaser is to state in writing, within seven days from the date of settlement, in what building he purposes to open his shop, and is at the same time to submit a plan showing clearly and distinctly what building or portion thereof he desires to be covered by the license, it being understood that the removal of shops to other premises than those named in the list attached to this notification will be contingent on the approval of both the Excise and Police authorities, and that any sum which has been paid as an advance of the license fee under the provisions of clause (d) of these conditions will be returned to any person to whom a license may be subsequently refused for Police reasons.

(d)—That the term of the license is to be for three years ending the 31st March, and that, except in the case of tari, the license fee for that period is to be paid in advance in the following instalments :—namely, the sum equivalent to the fee for two months, at the time of sale, and one month's fee on the date on which the currency of the license commences, and one month's fee on the 1st day of every succeeding month, until the whole of the fee due on the license shall have been paid. (f)—That the currency of the license is to commence on the 1st April, on which date the purchaser is to open his shop, in all respects prepared for the accommodation of customers, to be certified by an Excise Officer—failure to comply with this condition is to be met by the immediate cancelment of the license, the forfeiture of the deposit* and the levy of the fees for the month, except in the case of delay caused by the non-issue of the police certificate or police license for which a reasonable extension of time may be allowed upon application and cause shown to the Superintendent of Excise Revenue.

(g)—That where the amount of the sum payable in advance is required to be paid at once in cash, and the bidder fails to make such payment, the officer conducting the sale is either immediately to put up the lot again for sale, or after the other lots in the list have been disposed of, or he may postpone the sale to such future date as he shall then and there notify; and the defaulting purchaser is to be debarred from bidding for such lot or for any other lot, and he is not to be allowed to remain in the auction-room; and that the defaulting purchaser will be liable for any loss that may accrue to Government in case it becomes necessary to re-sell a lot at a lower rate either in consequence of his failure to deposit the sum payable at the time of sale, or to redeem his promissory note on or before 4 P.M. on the day following that on which the note was signed.

(h)—That the purchasers are to adhere to all the provisions of the Opium, Excise and Police laws, and of the rules which have been or may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Revenue.

8. All sales subsequent to the date of the triennial sale in March are to be held subject to the conditions contained in this notification, so far as they may be applicable.

Note.—A separate page will be given to each distiller. It will be observed that in order to enable the officer in charge of the distillery to keep up this form, it will be necessary that the stock which is manufactured each day should be kept distinct from that manufactured on other days. The officer will every evening test the spirit manufactured during the day after it has cooled, and should at once mark the casks or kulsees containing it with the date of manufacture, and close the mouth, until the spirit is required for issue.

It is to be understood that a distiller who manufactures spirits of different strength in one day may mix them together or not, as he chooses, before they are tested by the officer in charge of the distillery, but not after they have been tested and registered.

APPENDIX C.

INTRODUCTION OF OUTSTILL LIQUOR INTO SUDDER DISTILLERY LIMITS.

Board's Circular Order No. 3 of July 1878.

THE Board have reason to believe that country spirits manufactured at outstills are clandestinely brought for sale and use into the tracts where spirits manufactured at a sudder distillery may alone be lawfully sold and consumed. Every Collector should therefore exercise the powers conferred on him by section 31,* Act XXI of 1856, in respect of each sudder distillery in his district, and fix by public notification the limits within which no country spirits, except such as are manufactured at such distillery, shall be introduced or sold without a special pass from the Collector, and within which no still shall be constructed or worked, or spirits manufactured, except at the said distillery. After the issue of such a notification under section 31, the penalty prescribed in section 46† of the Act should be inflicted on all offenders who can be convicted of breaking the law.

RETAIL SALE OF OUTSTILL LIQUOR.

Board's Circular Orders No. 2 of April 1880 and No. 3 of November 1887.

UNDER the powers vested in the Board by section 15, Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, it is hereby notified that the limit to the retail sale of country spirits in outstills is six quart bottles, as prescribed in Board's Circular Order No. 6 of April 1878. REWARDS IN EXCISE CASES.

Board's Circular Order No. 1 of October 1880.

THE attention of all excise officers is requested to the provisions of the Excise Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, and section XXII of the Board's Excise Manual, regarding the payment of rewards to informers and others in excise cases.

1. The Collector is authorized, under section 77, to grant a reward from the amount of the fine levied in a case of conviction for the following offences:—

1. Unlawful manufacture
2. Ditto sale
3. Ditto purchase
4. Ditto possession

} of any exciseable article.

5. Ditto cultivation of plants from which intoxicating drugs are made.

2. The rewards should be paid as promptly as possible. If the fine is levied as soon as it is inflicted by the Magistrate, the Collector should at once distribute the rewards. ‡If the fine is not levied within a week, the Collector should apply to the Board, through the Commissioner, for a special reward under section 78 of the Act, but whenever a special reward is thus applied for, the original fine, if levied, will be credited to Government.

3. The officers who prosecute in excise cases should be instructed not to press for heavy penalties against manufacturers or vendors under section 59 of the Bengal Excise Act of 1878. When a manufacturer or vendor is brought up several times for trial, the proper course is to cancel his license if he will not attend to the warnings which should be given to him. It is, on the other hand, the duty of the Excise Department to protect manufacturers and vendors against petty prosecutions, especially on the information of such persons as are likey to use their power to extort money.

The Board having decided that an allowance of 2½ per cent. on account of dryage and wastage should be made in respect of the whole quantity of ganja received into a golah, including the quantity destroyed as refuse, the following revised sample case of stock-taking is circulated for the information of all Revenue Officers concerned, in supersession of the illustration in Board's Circular Order No. 3 for December 1880:—

RESPONSIBILITY OF SUBDIVISIONAL OFFICERS IN EXCISE MATTERS.

Board's Circular Order No. 3 of August 1881.

By the orders conveyed in Board's Circular Order No. 3 for October 1877, the Excise Deputy Collector at the sudder station was placed in charge of the excise administration of each district under the responsible supervision of the Collector.

2. It was explained in the circular order and the correspondence which was circulated therewith that the object of these orders was to ensure uniformity and a systematic management of the Excise Department in each district. This object has been successfully attained.

3. At the same time, as it did not appear necessary that Subdivisional Officers should be burdened any longer with the administrative details of the excise work of their subdivisions, they were relieved of the duty of receiving and forwarding the returns submitted by the subordinate excise officers, who have since then sent their returns direct to, and received orders direct from, the Sudder Excise Deputy Collector.

4. It was considered that it would be sufficient to require Subdivisional Officers to make periodical visits to distilleries, and generally to take an intelligent interest in excise matters throughout their subdivisions; and that they might be informed of any matters which called for their special attention, it was directed that all important orders to excise officers from the Sudder should be sent through the Subdivisional Officers.

5. With the closure of distilleries, however, on the introduction of the out-still system, the connection of Subdivisional Officers with excise matters has in a great measure ceased; and there is reason to believe that the intention of the Government and of the Board, that such officers should maintain an interest in the excise of their subdivisions has, from this and other causes, failed to have proper effect.

6. The Board therefore desire, in accordance with orders received from Government, to inform all Revenue Officers concerned, that Subdivisional Officers will, in future, be held entirely responsible for the working of the Excise Department in their subdivisions. It is not intended by these orders that the central authority in each district should be any way weakened, or that the advantage of uniformity in system which has been obtained should be lessened. The duties of the Special Excise Deputy Collector in connection with the general excise administration of the district should continue, as far as possible, to be exercised as at present. But it is to be understood that the immediate control of the excise in each subdivision will rest with the Subdivisional Officer, and not with the Excise Deputy Collector; and to this end it is directed that all orders issued from the Excise Deputy Collector shall issue through the Subdivisional Officer, and no orders or accounts will pass between the Excise Deputy Collector and the subordinate excise officers in the subdivision except through the Subdivisional Officer.

7. The excise returns and accounts of the subdivision will, in like manner, be forwarded to the sudder through the Subdivisional Officer, and it will be his duty periodically to examine them carefully.

8. The Subdivisional Officer will also be responsible for the punctual collection of the excise revenue in his subdivision; and it is hereby ordered that all license fees (excepting the fees deposited in advance at the time of settlement, when the settlements are not made in the subdivision) will in future be paid into the subdivisional treasury of the subdivision in which the shops are situated. The Subdivisional Officer will keep up Register 49 (new No. 7) in respect of all shops in the subdivision, and Register 48 (new No 127) of excise prosecutions in respect of all cases tried there; and monthly extracts will be forwarded to the Excise Deputy Collector at the Sudder, who will, from them, prepare amalgamated registers for the whole district.

9. At the same time it is not intended that a Subdivisional Officer, although in direct responsible control of the excise of his subdivision, should issue orders on his own authority except such as are required to carry out the directions he receives from the Excise Deputy Collector. Such directions are to be understood to be the Collector's orders, and the Subdivisional Officer will be answerable to him for their being properly carried out. It will, however, be competent to either the Subdivisional Officer or the Excise Deputy Collector to refer for the Collector's decision any point on which a difference of opinion may arise.

EXCISE RETURN No. XIV.

Board's Circular Order No. 9 of June 1882.

THE following instructions are issued for the guidance of District Officers and Commissioners in the preparation of the Board's Excise Return No. XIV.

2. The two months' fee payable at the time of settlement, in the case of shops coming under clause 17, section III of the Board's Excise Rules, is not to be considered as a deposit to be credited in the last quarter of the year; but it is to be treated as part of the amount due on account of the first quarter from which the term of the license runs. Thus, if the license runs from the 1st April, the two months' advance fee, together with three months' fees, or five months' fees in all must be shown in column 11 of table I of return XIV for the first quarter of the year; and if the two months' advance fee is paid before the 1st April, it should also be shown in column 13. In this case it will also appear in column 24 of the return for the fourth quarter of the preceding year. In the returns for the second and third quarters, column 11 will show three months' fees, and in the fourth quarter's return only one month's fee.

3. Supposing a license is cancelled or thrown up during the year and resettled in, say, the second quarter, from the 1st September. Under the rule now introduced, column 11 in the second quarter's return will show three months' fees (viz., two months' advance fee plus the fee for September) in respect of the new license. in addition to any fee or penalty fee (section 30, Act VII, B.C., of 1878) for the second quarter due from the first licensee. If the license is resettled from, say, the 1st October, column 11 in the third quarter's return will show five months' fees in respect of the new license. If the two months' advance fee in respect of the last-mentioned license is paid before 1st October, it will also appear in column 24 of the second quarter's return and in column 13 of the third quarter's return.

RETAIL SALE OF COUNTRY SPIRIT, TARI, AND PACHWAI.

UNDER the authority vested in them by section 4, Act I (B.C.) of 1883, the Board hereby notify, for the information of District Officers and their subordinates, that the circular orders noted in the margin, and clauses 8, 9, 11 and 12, section XVIII, of the Board's Excise Manual, fixing the limit to the retail sale of country spirits, tari, and pachwai, are still in force, and must be observed.

SHOPS ON BORDERS OF DISTRICTS

IT has been brought to the notice of the Board that considerable delay and inconvenience sometimes occur in the annual settlement of excise shops situated on the borders of districts. All Collectors and Deputy Commissioners are therefore requested to send, at least a month before the close of each official year, to the neighbouring District Officers a list of the shops which it is proposed to open or maintain during the ensuing year within two miles of the district boundaries. The adoption of this measure will, it is believed, give time to settle all disputes regarding the establishment of such shops before the issue of final orders for their settlement, and obviate the necessity of closing them afterwards.

TRANSMISSION OF DUPLICATE GANJA PASSES TO RAJSHAHYE.

IT has been brought to the notice of the Board that the transmission to the Collector of Rajshahye of the duplicate passes for the import of ganja, referred to in clause 27, section XX of the Excise Rules, is delayed in certain districts. This causes much inconvenience to the importers, who must in consequence be detained at Nowgong until the passes reach the Collector of Rajshahye, in order to enable him to issue the necessary licenses to the purchasers. The attention of district officers is, therefore, drawn to the necessity of transmitting the duplicate passes to the Collector of Rajshahye simultaneously with hte issuing of the original passes to the importers.

Board's Circular Order
No. 11 of November 1883.

PROCEDURE IN CASE OF AN APPLICATION FOR A LICENSE TO SET UP AN OUTSTILL.

DISTRICT OFFICERS are informed that whenever a license is granted to set up an outstill the applicant should state in a petition the villages which may be expected to draw their supplies from his shop, and the size of still in liquid capacity

Board's Circular Order
No. 4 of March 1886.

which he proposes to set up. The Collector, after such enquiry as may be necessary, on being satisfied that the size of the still is not excessive, and bears a reasonable proportion to the number of drinkers, to the estimated demand for local consumption and the fee to be paid, will state on the license the size of still which it covers. It would be advisable if for this purpose the Collector divided the stills in his district roughly into three classes. This reform should at once be introduced whenever a shop is relet, and at the next settlement every license should contain a specification in liquid measure of the size of still covered by it.

REMITTANCE OF LICENSE FEES BY MEANS OF POSTAL MONEY-ORDERS.

Board's Circular Order No. 8 of March 1886.

THE Board desire that every encouragement may be given to excise vendors to remit their fees by means of money-orders with the object of reducing to the lowest possible limit the amount of money passing through the hands of darogahs and peons. District officers are requested to give special attention to this matter, and to report whether any steps can be taken to facilitate the remittance of fees through the post-office.

2. In the form of money-order now in use a space is left as "coupon to be retained by payee," where the license-holder remitting his fees can enter his name, the name of the shop, and the period for which the fee is remitted. The Board are anxious that the facilities thus afforded should be made widely known.

3. Remittances by money-order are now extensively used throughout the country, and the Board see no reason why they should not be much more largely availed of for the payment of excise revenue. Officers must bear in mind that the change is one which will not be popular with the subordinates of the Excise Department, and that the personal interest of the Collector, the Subdivisional Officers, and Excise Deputy Collector will be necessary to ensure the success of the measure.

PROHIBITION OF THE PRACTICE OF MIXING WATER WITH THE DISTILLED SPIRIT AT THE COMMENCEMENT OR AFTER DISTILLATION.

Board's Circular Order No. 12 of March 1886.

THE practice of placing water in the "kunds" or receivers prior to the commencement of distillation should be prohibited. The practice was prohibited by the Board in the Patna Division in their No. 349B, dated 28th July 1876, and the prohibition should be maintained.

2. The Board are decidedly of opinion that the practice of mixing water with the distilled spirit after distillation, but prior to the liquor being tested for alcoholic strength, should not be allowed.

LICENSES AND THEIR SETTLEMENT.

* * * * * * * * * *

Board's Circular order No. 13 of March 1886 (extract).

"Benami" transactions must not be permitted, and licenses should be granted only to bonâ fide vendors. The sub-letting of shops is not sanctioned by the rules, and the names of the actual vendors should be endorsed on the license if they are selling as servants on account of the holders of the licenses.

DIRECT PAYMENT OF EXCISE REVENUE INTO THE LOCAL TREASURIES BY ABKARS.

Board's Circular Order No 5 of June 1886.
*No. 46B, dated 15th February 1886, to the Commissioner of Burdwan.
No. 52B, dated 15th February 1886, to the Commissioner of Patna
No. 91B, dated 14th May 1886, to the Commissioner of Dacca.

THE attention of Commissioners is drawn to the Board's Circular Order No. 8 of March 1886, and other incidental orders,* enjoining direct payment of excise revenue into the local treasuries by the abkars by means of money-orders or otherwise, and they are requested to be so good as to report on the progress made in carrying out the injunctions in each of the districts of their respective divisions.

2. It is very desirable that all payments of excise revenue (license fees, duties on ganja, country spirits, and other exciseable articles, &c.) should be made by the abkars direct to the local treasuries, without the intervention of the excise darogahs or clerks, and this must be insisted on except in the case of tari in the Behar districts and pachwai in Burdwan, Bankoorah, Beerbhoom, and Mymensingh, where a large number of petty licensed vendors of these articles exist. In the case of distilleries situated at a long distance from the excise office and the treasury, the duty on country spirits may be received by the Sub-Deputy or other officer in charge of the distillery, who is also to realise the distillery fees on the quantity distilled and remit the same, together with the duty realised, to the treasury, on the day of receipt, or on the next day.

NOTE BOOKS TO BE KEPT BY EXCISE INSPECTORS AND SUB-INSPECTORS.

* * * * * *

Board's Circular Order No. 5 of July 1886 (extract).

5. With an inspecting agency attached to every district there should be now no difficulty in ascertaining within a fair margin the real value of each shop by local enquiries and other means. Each Inspector and Sub-Inspector should keep a note-book in the following form:—

Name of excise article.	Place of vend, with name of vendor.	Monthly license fee.	Average quantity sold in a month.	Average sale-proceeds in a month.	CHARGES IN A MONTH.				Net profit in a month.	REMARKS.
					Cost price.	Shop expenses.	License fee.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11

6. In districts where special Excise Deputy Collectors have been appointed, such a note-book should be kept by each of them, and in districts where such special agency does not exist, the Sudder Excise Deputy Collector and Sub-

EXCISE INSPECTING AND DETECTIVE OFFICERS TO BE OUT FOR A CONSIDERABLE NUMBER OF DAYS IN EVERY MONTH.

Board's Circular Order No. 12 of July 1888.

THE Board have reason to believe that the work of inspection is not efficiently done in all districts. District Officers are accordingly requested to direct their Excise Inspecting and Detective Officers to move about in the interior for a considerable number of days in every month, visit each outstill at least once a quarter, and note ~~the number of vats used and their liquid and working capacities,~~ the quantity of liquor distilled and its strength, &c. By constant visits at different periods, including festive and other seasons, the officers should be able to find out the actual local demand for spirits and the quantity of materials worked off.

PUNISHMENT IN CASES OF SMUGGLING OF OUTSTILL LIQUOR.

Board's Circular Order No. 14 of July 1888.

FROM information in the reports of cases, the Board find that very light sentences—fines of a few rupees only—are very often inflicted in cases of smuggling of outstill liquor. Such cases are, it is well known, most difficult to detect, and the interests of the excise revenue require that, on conviction, the offenders should generally receive exemplary punishment, and the persons who may have been instrumental in securing the convictions should be substantially rewarded. The Board accordingly desire Commissioners and District Officers to see that the views of the Board on the subject are given effect to. In important cases superior officers of the Excise Department should be deputed to conduct them before Magistrates, and to press for heavy fines.

REPORT IN CASE OF NON-PAYMENT OF LICENSE FEES ON THE DUE DATE.

Board's Circular Orders No. 10 of August 1888 and No. 11 of February 1889.

IT has been brought to the notice of the Board that in many districts there is no regular or fixed rule as to the reporting of non-payment of license fees on the due date, which is generally the 1st of each month. The omission to bring defaults in payment to the notice of the Excise Deputy Collector causes delay in the realization of license fees due, and in the resettlement of shops, when necessary. The Board therefore direct that the excise sheristadar at head-quarters and the excise clerk at subdivisions submit a report on such a date, not later than the 6th of the month, as the District Officer may prescribe, to the Excise Deputy Collector and Subdivisional Officer, respectively, giving a detailed list of the defaulters in the form given below :—

Number.	Of what article.	Locality of shop.	Name of vendor.	Fees due.	REMARKS.
1	2	3	4	5	6
				RS. A. P.

On receipt of the report, the Excise Deputy Collector or Subdivisional Officer, as the case may be, should take immediate steps to realize the fees due, and, if necessary, to cancel the defaulter's license and resettle the shop.

The subsequent realizations made or other action taken should be noted in the column of remarks.

DUTIES OF SUBDIVISIONAL EXCISE CLERKS.

Board's Circular Order No. 8 of September 1888.

It appears that the excise clerks attached to subdivisions are often employed solely on general clerical work, a great part of which is not work connected with the Excise Department. The clerical work proper of the department in most subdivisions cannot take more than a few hours a week. The Board therefore direct that the subdivisional excise clerks be employed in constantly moving about in the interior, visiting shops, detecting excise cases and collecting statistical information. They should be paid travelling allowance according to the sanctioned rates.

2. The Inspector or Sub-Inspector should carefully scrutinize the diaries of the clerks under the general and constant supervision of the Excise Deputy Collector.

EXCLUSION OF TEMPORARY LICENSES FROM THE QUARTERLY AND ANNUAL RETURNS.

Board's Circular Order No. 18 of September 1888 (extract).

It has been brought to the notice of the Board that in some districts temporary and fair licenses are shown in column 4 of table I of the Annual Return No. XLII. As the entry of such licenses improperly reduces the average fees per license and gives a wrong idea of the number of licenses current for the whole year, District Officers are requested to see that such licenses are excluded from this return, as well as from the Quarterly Return No. XIV. They are, however, to be shown in the explanation sheets, accompanying both the returns, under each head of exciseable article to which they may appertain, together with the fees derived from them, a comparison being made with the figures of the corresponding period of the previous year.

DUTIES OF INSPECTING OFFICER VISITING AN OUTSTILL.

Board's Circular Order No. 9 of December 1888.

Each inspecting officer visiting an outstill is required to record his remarks regarding the general working of the outstill, noting also the capacity of the still and vats used, the quantity of materials under fermentation, the strength and retail prices of the different kinds of liquor sold, the quantity of liquor in stock, the establishment charges, the cost of manufacture, &c., the causes of fluctuations in sales, and whether the several conditions of the license are strictly observed. For this purpose blank pages should be added this year at end of the "Register of Account for holders of outstills" before issue to the vendors. In future the Superintendent of Stationery will be directed to add the blank leaves before supplying the books to District Officers.

ACCOUNT HOW TO BE KEPT WHEN TWO OR MORE OUTSTILL SHOPS ARE SUPPLIED WITH LIQUOR MANUFACTURED IN ONE STILL.

Board's Circular Order No. 5 of January 1889.

In cases where two or more outstill shops are supplied with liquor manufactured in one still, the Board consider that, at the shops where the liquor is sold, the printed account form prescribed for the distillery shops, on page 141 of the Excise Manual, 1884, instead of account book in form 25, should be kept, the sub-column "Duty" of column 3 being omitted. At the place where the still is worked, the account in form 25, page 151 of the Excise Mannual, 1884, should be maintained, and the issues to each shop should be separately shown in column 6 of the account, the name of the shop to which the liquor is issued being invariably recorded.

2. The account of manufacture and of sales should be shown separately, and the inspecting officer should examine and compare the entries in the account books kept, both where the still is worked, and at the shops where the sales are effected.

SUPPLY OF GALLON MEASURES AND HYDROMETERS TO AN INSPECTING OFFICER.

Board's Circular Order No. 3 of February 1889.

THE Board consider it necessary that every Excise Inspecting Officer should be supplied with one 4-gallon measure and one 1-gallon measure for testing vat and still capacity; and every District Officer and officer in charge of a distillery with one set of Sikes' hydrometer with tables, &c.

SETTLEMENT OF LICENSES FOR THE SALE OF FERMENTED TARI.

* * * * *

Board's Circular Order No. 12 of February 1889.

The settlement of all tari shops should be made by the Excise Deputy Collector, Subdivisional Officer, or other gazetted officer specially selected by the Collector. The licenses should ordinarily be issued to the vendors on the day they accept settlement and pay the advance fees.

2. The officer holding the sales should take care to see that the Passees or other tari vendors have no direct dealings with the darogahs or other ministerial officers, and that they undergo no unnecessary trouble or are not subjected to illegal impositions. On the other hand, everything should be done to stimulate competition and raise the fees.

3. In some districts it has been found that the vendors are unwilling to take out fermented tari licenses for the whole year at monthly fees settled by auction. The Board think that in these and similar cases, season licenses for fermented tari may be issued, e.g., season licenses may be issued for the sale of palm tari from April to August or September, and for date tari from October or November to March. Such licenses may, at the District Officer's discretion, be issued on payment of fees fixed by him or be sold by auction. The system now in vogue in the Patna and Bhagulpore Divisions of settling tari shops at annual fees may also be tried in other divisions, a special report on the subject being, after the conclusion of the settlement, submitted to the Board through the Commissioner.

ADJUSTMENT OF ITEMS OF RECEIPTS AND CHARGES IN THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT.

Board's Circular Order No. 8 of June 1889.

IN supersession of the Board's Circular Order No. 10 of December 1882, the following revised memorandum of adjustment of certain items of receipts and charges in the Excise Department is issued at the instance of the Accountant-General of Bengal. District Officers are requested either to exclude from, or to include in,

CHARGES ON ACCOUNT OF RENT, RATES AND TAXES ON GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS OCCUPIED BY THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT ARE TO BE DEBITED TO EXCISE.

Circular Order No. 109, dated the 6th June 1889.

WITH reference to the Bengal Government (Financial Department) Resolution, dated the 1st March 1888, circulated with order No. 6, dated the 1st idem, the portion of the footnote appended to the form of Return No. XXIX of excise charges given on page 186 of the Excise Manual 1884, and referred to in clause 3, section XX, page 124, given below, should be expunged :—

"and of rent, rates and taxes on Government buildings" "and 32, Miscellaneous respectively."

District officers are requested to see that all payments on account of rents, rates and taxes on Government buildings occupied by the Excise Department are debited to the Department, and that they are entered in the excise return.

TIME FOR CLOSING SHOPS FOR THE SALE OF EXCISEABLE ARTICLES.

Board's Circular Order No. 8 of October 1889.

As some doubt has arisen as to the hour for closing excise shops other than liquor shops, the Board direct, in supersession of all previous orders on the subject, that the closing hours for all classes of excise shops, whether for the sale of drugs or liquor, will be those fixed in Circular No. 5 of January 1887, viz., 8 p.m. in the cold eason (16th October to 15th March) and 9 p.m. in the hot season (16th March to 15th October).

ENTRY OF ADVANCE FEES LEVIED AT THE TIME OF THE ANNUAL SETTLEMENT IN THE RECONCILEMENT STATEMENT ACCOMPANYING RETURN No. XVI.

Board's Circular Order No. 8 of December 1889.

A DIVERSITY of practice having been found to exist in making the entry against the head "Demand of the month according to the annual settlement made up to the 31st March" in the reconcilement statement in form No. 114A, accompanying return No. XVI (old No. VA) for the month of April, District Officers are requested in future to include the advance fees levied at the time of the annual settlement either before or after 1st April in the demand of the month of April. The license and the advance fee should, however, be separately noted in the margin.

CONSUMPTION OF OUTSTILL LIQUOR TO BE SHOWN IN THE QUARTERLY AND ANNUAL RETURNS.

Board's Circular No. 11 of December 1889.

Now that the licensees of outstills are required to keep accounts of their transactions, and the total quantity of spirits sold is entered in Register No. 49 (new No. 7), as enjoined in the Board's Circular No. 3 of September 1886, District Officers are requested to show the total consumption in their quarterly Return No. XIV and in their annual Return No. XLII. The consumption for the current quarter should be shown in the next quarterly return for the quarter ending 31st December 1889, and that for the year 1889-90 in the next annual return.

EXCISE FINES TO BE CREDITED TO "LAW AND JUSTICE" AND REWARDS TO BE PAID OUT OF THE COLLECTOR'S GRANT FOR EXCISE CONTINGENCIES.

Board's Circular Order No. 6 of February 1890.

IN supersession of all previous Circular Orders on the subject, the Board direct that every excise fine shall be credited to Government in the Treasury accounts under the head "Law and Justice," and that rewards shall be paid out of the Collector's grant for excise contingencies, in accordance with the terms of note 39, page 635 of the Civil Account Code, volume II.

2. The above procedure, which will come into force from the 1st April 1890, should not, however, interfere with the prompt payment of rewards, and officers trying excise cases, who are vested with the powers of a Collector under section 4 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, as enjoined in the Board's Circular Order No. 6 of September 1886, are authorized to distribute rewards at once out of the excise contingent grant of the district to such of the persons (including police officers and chowkidars) to whom rewards have been adjudged, as may be present in court. But rewards awarded to police officers (including chowkidars) who may be absent will be paid by the Collector to the District Superintendent of Police for distribution, on monthly bills prepared by that officer, which should be carefully checked in the Collector's office and passed for the amounts due.

3. The Board's Circular Orders No. 25 of July 1888 and No. 9 of June 1888, and the unrepealed portion of the Board's Circular Order No. 2 of September 1881, are hereby rescinded.

TRANSMISSION OF DUPLICATE GANJA PASSES BY POST TO THE COLLECTOR OF RAJSHAHYE ON THE DAY THEY ARE ISSUED.

Board's Circular Order No. 8 of February 1890.

CASES having occurred in which golahdars have been unnecessarily detained at Nowgong in consequence of delay in the receipt at the Collector's office at Rajshaye of duplicate import passes granted by Collectors under Rule 30, section XVII (page 113) of the Excise Manual, the Board enjoin particular care on the part of District Officers to prevent any such delay being allowed to take place in future, and to see that the duplicate passes in question are transmitted by post to the Collector of Rajshahye on the day they are issued.

REGISTER No. 20 (NEW No. 47) NOT TO BE KEPT IN DISTILLERIES WHERE THE OFFICERS IN CHARGE DO NOT ISSUE PASSES.

Board's Circular Order No. 8 of August 1890.

As the register in Form No. 20 (new No. 46) (page 140, Excise Manual) is intended for the guidance of the officer whose duty it is to grant passes for country spirit distilled in central distilleries, so as to prevent the grant of passes for the issue of liquor to any shop of which the license fee may be in arrear, it is not necessary to keep it in those distilleries where the officers in charge do not issue such passes. It must, however, be kept up by every officer, including Deputy Collectors, in charge of subdivisions at which there are spirit depôts, whose duty it may be to grant such passes; and if such officer does not himself receive the license fees on all shops for which he grants passes, the officer receiving such license fees must send him prompt notification of every payment, so as to enable him to keep the register properly posted.

PROPORTION OF REFUSE TO DUTY-PAYING GANJA.

Board's Circular Order No. 9 of August 1890.

A CASE has recently occurred in which the officer in charge of a ganja golah at the time of issue allowed wood to be removed from flat ganja and thrown on the refuse heap; consequently a quantity of ganja was issued as flat ganja, which was practically round ganja, and which was not assessed with duty proportionate to its value, while a quantity of flat ganja, which should have paid duty, was thrown away as refuse. The proportion of refuse to duty-paying ganja was in the district in question 24 to 100 in 1888-89, and 32 to 100 in 1889-90, while the average for all the other districts of the province has been below 7 to 100. As, however, in several districts the proportion greatly exceeds that average, it is necessary to draw the attention of all Collectors to the possibility of similar frauds.

ALL LIQUOR DISTILLED, WHETHER INTENDED FOR REDISTILLATION OR NOT, TO BE BROUGHT TO ACCOUNT IN THE REGISTERS.

Board's Circular Order No. 10 of August 1890.

WITH a view to provide an easy check on the levy of distillery fees, the Board direct that all liquor distilled, whether intended for redistillation or not, be brought to account in Registers Nos. 17 (new No. 44) and 18 (new No. 45), the quantity taken out for redistillation and the fees levied thereon being also shown in the same registers.

FREE HOME BREWING OF PACHWAI.

Board's Circular Order No. 4 of November 1890.

UNDER the notifications dated the 11th March 1884 and 6th October 1890 issued under section 82 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1878, and published in the Calcutta Gazette of 19th March 1884 and 15th October 1890 respectively, free home brewing of pachwai without limit as to the quantity that may be possessed has been allowed to the aboriginal tribes in the districts of Manbhoom, Singbhoom, and Lohardugga, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and in the subdivision of Banka in the Bhagulpore district.

2. Free home brewing of pachwai without restriction has been allowed by the Board to the aboriginal tribes inhabiting the districts or Burdwan, Beerbhoom, Midnapore, Bankoorah and Moorshedabad during the annual bandhna festival only. The privilege of brewing pachwai for home consumption within a limit of 20 seers only is allowed to the aboriginal races in the districts of Darjeeling and Julpigoree.

LIMITATION OF THE TIME OF SALE OF LIQUOR IN MOFUSSIL HOTELS.

Board's Circular Order No. 2 of March 1891.

THERE being at present no limitation of time regarding the sale of liquor to outsiders in a mofussil hotel at night, the Board direct that mofussil hotels shall be closed for the sale of liquor to persons other than those living in the hotels at 8 p.m. in the cold and 9 p.m. in the hot season. But in special cases the Commissioner of Excise may, on the representation of the District Officer, extend the hour of closing.

E. D'S. and others--Reg. No. 1927J—1,200—22 8-91.

Notes compiled by MR. E. V. WESTMACOTT, late Excise Commissioner.

IT is not necessary, so far as we know at present, to distinguish between cane sugar and sugar formed from palm juice. Either of these must be converted into grape sugar, by the addition of yeast to the solution, before alcohol can be formed. In order to convert sugar into alcohol, it is necessary that a large proportion of water should be present, that certain temperatures should be maintained, and that an active agent, or ferment, such as yeast, should be employed. The process of brewing as distinct from fermentation is greatly neglected by the Indian distiller, who obtains his alcohol only by an extravagant expenditure of material. The process of brewing worts from sugar consists in the simple operation of dissolving the material in a proper quantity of water. Simple as this process is, however, the Indian distillers do not carry it out. They do not know that if the wort is too strong the large proportion of spirit formed destroys the action of the yeast, and checks fermentation before the whole of the spirit is decomposed, thus causing a waste of material. European distillers generally select the gravities of 1045°, 1050°, and 1055°, while Indian distillers frequently brew worts of the gravity of 1130°, and even more. It is often impossible to ascertain what the true gravity of any wort may be, because owing to imperfect dissolving of the sugar the gravity is still increasing at the same time that fermentation is proceeding and the gravity is being reduced by the formation of alcohol. In order to extract the full quantity of saccharine matter from the material, the sugar should be thoroughly dissolved in water, before fermentation is set up, and there is no difficulty in this. The distiller's servants object to the trouble of crushing and stirring the sugar, but the saving of material is more than worth the trouble. The sugar being thoroughly dissolved, the next point is to determine what is the best gravity for the wort. If it is too dilute, a large expenditure of time and fuel, and larger vessels, are required for its distillation, but with this limitation it is not possible

Page 112.

Page 112.

NOTE.—The references in the margin are to the volume entitled 'Instructions for surveying distilleries and charging the duties on British spirits, 1884.'

to dilute it too much. The saccharometer is corrected to a temperature of 60° Fahrenheit, and a correction of rather more than a degree of gravity for every 10° of temperature is necessary. The best gravities will be found to be at 70° Fahr. 1058° gravity, but if the wort instead of being bright and clear is muddy, holding solid matter in suspension, as it often is in India, though it should not be, slightly higher gravities may be allowed. By the English Brewery Act (43 and 44 Vict., ch. 20), 28 lbs. of sugar are to be deemed equivalent to a bushel of malt, and a brewer is deemed to have brewed 36 gallons of worts of the gravity of 1057° for every two bushels, or 84 lbs. of malt or corn, or 56 lbs. weight of sugar. A maund of sugar, therefore, of 82 lbs. should brew nearly 53 gallons of worts of 1057°. When molasses or treacle from which sugar has been extracted, known as choa, is the material selected, the definition of syrup in the English Brewery Act may be taken as a guide to its value as compared with sugar. The only syrup recognised in the English law as prepared from cane sugar is of a density weighing 14 lbs. avoirdupois to the gallon, and it must be so fluid as to flow freely when poured from one vessel to another. This definition is somewhat loose. It may, however, be taken that 34 lbs. of a syrup weighing 14 lbs. to the gallon and flowing freely from one vessel to another, is equal to 28 lbs. of sugar. It will therefore take 68 lbs. of such syrup to brew 36 gallons of worts of 1057°, and a maund or 82 lbs. of such syrup should brew 43 gallons of worts.

Where mahawa is used as a material, we have no European experience to guide us. It is, however, beyond doubt that much of this material is wasted by Indian distillers, because fermentation is set up before all the saccharine matter contained in the material has passed into the wort. No process of mashing is gone through, the mahawa is only placed to soak, and in most cases the yeast or other ferment is applied at once, without waiting for the saccharine to be extracted from the material. The proper treatment of mahawa would be analogous to that of apples or beet root, which

Page 102. only require to be sliced or crushed, and it appears certain that the outturn of spirit would be greatly increased if the mahawa were thoroughly crushed or ground before brewing. As there are no starch granules to be dealt with, it is not necessary to raise the temperature of the wort, but the material should be thoroughly crushed or ground, and the wort stirred so that the maximum density may be obtained as soon as possible, and at any rate before fermentation is set up. Probably an English distiller would strain the wort from the solid material and allow nothing but clear liquid to pass into the fermenting vessels, but this we can hardly expect from Indian distillers at present. It must also be observed that the density in the case of mahawa is, unless the worts are strained, increased by solid matter held in suspension, and is not due solely to the amount of saccharine in solution.

Pages 106-7.

As regards mahawa, it is probable that, as in the case of grapes, vinous fermentation would be set up spontaneously; but as regards solutions of cane or date-palm sugar, the addition of a small quantity of yeast or other ferment is necessary. Some Indian distillers use a compound of certain vegetable substances known as bakhor, and described on page 40 of the Report of the Excise Commission of 1883-84, the precise action of which is not accurately known. The active agent of fermentation generally used is the spent wash left in the still after distillation. As a ferment, it is only useful on account of the yeast deposited in it, and this might better be collected in the fermenting vessels than in the still. This would be better understood if some fermenting wash were watched in a glass vessel, which would show the deposit of yeast. It is not only as a ferment, however, that the spent wash is valuable, as it has been found both by experiment and by its density (from 1055° to 1060°) to contain a considerable proportion of saccharine matter capable of conversion into alcohol. In the Chapra and some other distilleries, fermentation is set up by taking a small quantity of wort from a jar already actively fermenting, and in several distilleries fermentation is set up in separate jars, and the product known as láhon or kasaundi added to the worts. The Excise Commissioner thinks the Chapra system a good one. In that distillery two kinds of worts are brewed—

(1) Hard sugar 20 seers, spent wash 7 gallons, water 8 gallons, actively fermenting wash ¼ gallon.

(2) Mahawa 15 seers, hard sugar 5 seers, spent wash 5 gallons, water 10 gallons, actively fermenting wash ¼ gallon.

In each case the total quantity, including solids, is about nineteen gallons. In both cases the mistake is made of setting up fermentation before the worts are thoroughly brewed by reducing all the saccharine matter in the material to a liquid form. In No. 1 the 20 seers of hard sugar should give at least 26 gallons of worts, to which are added 7 gallons of spent wash, which are already of a sufficient density. The worts should, therefore, be at least 33¼ gallons liquid. In No. 2, the 5 seers of sugar should give 6⅝ gallons of worts, and 15 seers of mahawa (say) 15 gallons; to this adding 7 gallons spent wash and ¼ gallon of actively fermenting wash, we get about 29 gallons liquid.

On page 111 of the Distillery Manual will be found a table showing the particular weight of sugar in any given quantity of wort of a certain density, and by an inverse calculation the density of the wash will give the saccharine value of any particular sample of molasses or sugar. In practice, however, it is enough to ascertain the proportion of alcohol which should be obtained from any sample of wort, and this can easily be ascertained by observing the diminution in the density of wort during the process of fermentation. Sugar is heavier than water, alcohol is lighter, and therefore the density of the wort will diminish as the sugar is turned into alcohol. It is roughly estimated that one gallon of proof strength will be obtained from every 100 gallons of wash in respect of every five degrees of gravity which disappear, the actual outturn being generally 11 per cent. more. The density of the wort is observed by means of the saccharometer, which instrument is described on page 113 of the Distillery Manual. By it the maximum density attained by the wort is observed and also the minimum to which it attenuates. The process would appear to be simple enough, but it is a very common mistake of the Superintendents of distilleries to miss the maximum point. They make an observation at a time when the density is rapidly increasing, and do not make another for 16 hours or more, when the density is rapidly diminishing. It is obvious that the maximum has occurred in the interval, and has not been recorded. One means of correcting this would be to ascertain by experiment at what hour the maximum density may be expected, and afterwards to take observations at that hour. As long, however, as efficient mashing is neglected and the maximum gravity is only obtained by slow soaking of the material, it will be impossible to arrive at the true density, because, as stated already, fermentation has commenced to reduce the density before all the sugar is dissolved in the liquid. The material should be so thoroughly mashed as to attain its greatest density as soon as possible, and fermentation should be kept back until this is the case. Experiment has already shown the native distillers in some places that by following this rule they can obtain as much from 35 seers of material as they formerly got from 40, and the saving might be much greater, but the distillers rely far too much upon servants who have no interest in saving material or fuel, but frequently the reverse, while they are desirous of saving themselves all the trouble they can. If the maximum density is really ascertained before fermentation commences, the difference between that and the minimum divided by five will give the percentage of outturn in gallons at London-proof, allowing 11 per cent. for waste. Thus 60 gallons of wort with a density of 1060° attenuate to 1015°. The percentage of outturn will be 9 gallons, or from 60 gallons of wash, 5·4 gallons London-proof. A good distiller would really get about 5·9 gallons. Before calculating the percentage it is necessary to know correctly the actual quantity of wash put into the still, and not to assume, as is too often done, that it is the same quantity of wort that was put into the fermenting vessels without any allowance for waste. The practice of putting solid material such as mahawa into the still is obviously absurd, as no alcohol can be obtained from it except by further fermentation. The wash should be strained through a coarse cloth, and the actual quantity ascertained by a dip rod, of which one should be prepared for each still by actual measurement.

$$\begin{array}{r} 1060 \\ 1015 \\ \hline 45 \\ \hline \end{array}$$

100 : 60 :: 9 : 5·4.

The proper time for distilling the wash is when the saccharometer indicates that the minimum density has been reached.

Page 112.

Dilute alcohol in the presence of certain organic germs which readily form at this stage combines with oxygen from the atmosphere, and is converted into acetic acid or vinegar, and as this vinegar is formed at the expense of the spirit, it is a certain loss to the distiller.

The wash having been measured into the still, the stillhead is fitted on, and connected with the receiver, and it is the duty of the Superintendent of the Distillery to see that all connections are so locked or sealed that no spirit can be removed from the receiver without his knowledge. It is for the interest of the distiller to see that connections are also made air-tight to prevent the escape of alcoholic vapour. The process of distillation consists merely in heating the wash to such a temperature as to cause the alcohol to assume the form of vapour, in preventing the escape of the vapour except through a pipe rising from the top of the vessel and afterwards taking a downward direction, and in cooling the descending part so as to recondense the vapour into a liquid. The boiling point of alcohol is 173° F., while that of water is 212°, but ebullition, which is necessary to rapid distillation, does not take place till the wash reaches an intermediate temperature, depending on the quantity of spirit present, and therefore, in every first distillation water distils over as well as spirit. For accurate work, a table of temperatures is given on page 118, but it may be briefly stated that the temperature should be kept below 212° F., the boiling point of water. Even, however, when water and alcohol and essential oils are vaporised together, it is possible to obtain spirit of very fair purity if the stillhead is sufficiently capacious to allow the mixed vapour to diffuse itself, and if the temperature of the stillhead is kept down to a few degrees above the boiling point of alcohol (173° F.). At this temperature nearly the whole of the water and oils will resume the liquid form, and trickle back into the still, and the spirit vapour will be ready to escape upwards, if it is allowed to do so, and to be condensed by further cooling into a liquid form. Nearly all the stillheads which are used by native distillers are faulty in two points. They are too small to allow of the diffusion and separation of mixed vapours, even when properly cooled, and they do not allow the alcoholic vapour to find its natural exit upwards. 5-5-93.
